HOUSE PASSES EMERGENCY TARIFF BILL

Vote Is 269 to 112; Goes to Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—(Special.)—The house tonight passed the emergency tariff bill by a vote of 269 to 112, with two recorded as present.

Some "Capital" for Democrats.

His admission that the bill had been prepared in accordance with wishes of Senate leaders gave the Democrats a chance to make political capital.

The bill as passed provides increased duties on a score of different agricultural commodities, this portion of the measure being identical with the bill as passed by the Senate.

Repeals Duties on German Imports.

The anti-dumping provisions and the scheme to regulate foreign exchange apply to the present Underwood act, as well as to the rates of duty provided in the new emergency measure.

Minnesota Among Foes.

Republicans voting against the bill in the final roll call included Representatives Anson, Perlman, and Siegel of New York; Luce and Tinkham of Massachusetts; and Keller of Minnesota.

Democrats supporting the bill included Representatives Lazor, Martin, Favrot, and Dupre of Louisiana; George of New York; Hyde of Texas; Clark and Smithwick of Florida; Lea of California; and Campbell of Pennsylvania.

MACHINE GUNS WILL HELP RUN RUNNERS TO RUN

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—(Special.)—Border patrols to catch the international liquor traffic, which will be conducted by overseas veterans equipped with machine guns, powerful searchlights, and a high powered speed boat, will be organized at once, Sheriff Livingston Coffin announced today.

An intensive campaign against rum runners will be started immediately and continued throughout the summer.

The men will be divided into groups of ten each. While the boat runs near shore, throwing its searchlight into every nook, the land patrols will search out caches of liquor along the banks.

Dickson Says Red Army Is in Illinois

Rockford, Ill., April 15.—[By the Associated Press.]—That there exists in Illinois armed forces intent on the overthrow of the government and that the future of the state rests on the restoration of national unity were the declarations made here tonight by Adj. Gen. Frank Dickson in an address at a Chamber of Commerce dinner.

"There is rampant in Illinois a persistent propaganda that whatever we have in government is wrong," Mr. Dickson said. "I am in a position to know that there is an armed force in this state which may be compared to the Red guard of soviet Russia. I could give you its members, the names of its officers, and its meeting places."

BRITISH CRISIS EBBING; MINERS ALONE IN STRIKE

LONDON, April 15.—A ballot taken by the seamen and firemen's union on the question whether the union shall call a strike resulted in a majority of fifty-seven against a strike. The total poll was 19,000.

Two Big Unions Out of Contest.

LONDON, April 15.—[By the Associated Press.]—A tense day, more replete in surprises than any previous day during the extraordinary industrial struggle which is in progress, closed tonight with an air of quietude.

Everywhere there was visible much relief on the part of the public over the knowledge that the contemplated strike of the railway and transport workers had been called off, and there was renewed hope expressed that out of the conflict between the striking miners and the railwaymen and transport workers a situation would be brought about which would lead to industrial peace.

The executive body of the Electrical Trades union and the secretary of the Railway Clerks' association called off the strikes of their organizations upon announcement of the decision of the railway men and transport workers not to strike.

Miners' Strike Still On.

The situation tonight was that the strike of the miners continued and that everything depended not as before on the amount of support the miners could get from other industries, but on the extent to which Frank Hodges, general secretary of the miners' federation, would be able to maintain his authority over the rank and file of the miners.

It is said that Mr. Hodges actually threatened today to resign, but that the miners' federation refused to listen to him, at least until a national conference of delegates of the federation has been called to discuss the whole question. The date of this conference will be fixed tomorrow morning. Afterward an official statement on the situation will be issued.

Split on Triple Alliance.

The breaking away from the triple alliance of the railwaymen and the transport workers on the miners' rejection of the moderate course recommended by Mr. Hodges, with a view to a temporary adjustment of the wage dispute, seems to have brought matters to a crisis where it was imperative to take a decision one way or another.

Mr. Hodges, it is declared, was severely criticized by his colleagues for having made what was termed a peace offer to members of the house of commons Thursday evening without consulting his resignation.

When asked today concerning the situation, Mr. Hodges said: "I have not resigned. If I had, I should not be using official statements now." When the question was pressed if he had offered to resign, Mr. Hodges declined to answer.

Britain Still on Guard.

Although the general situation is considered to have greatly improved by the failure of the railwaymen and the transport strike tonight, the government has not relaxed its measures, military or otherwise. The recruiting of the defense force continues actively.

The mine owners issued another statement tonight repeating their previous statement that the wages of the lower paid men ought to be adjusted and declaring they still were ready to meet the miners in conference.

Government offices, city houses and other places today. Throughout the morning hundreds of temporary beds were being delivered to accommodate members of the government staff who would have been unable to reach their distant homes in the event of a railway strike. Baggage-laden people also were to be seen hurrying into and out of London in the morning.

BOY, 7, FEARS ARREST; HIDES DEATH OF 'PAL'

The following entry was made on the blotter at the Sheffield avenue station at 11 o'clock Thursday night: "Rudolph Klich, 7 years old, 2126 Barry avenue; missing."

Last night the desk sergeant added the information: "Body recovered from river, foot of Oakley avenue; Schmidt's move, 2858 Belmont avenue."

All day long Joseph Klich, father of the missing boy, had searched the neighborhood of his home. Last night Klich recalled that Rudolph played sometimes with Elvin Jordan, 7 year old son of John Jordan, 2147 Fletcher street.

"Elvin has something on his mind," said Mrs. Jordan. "He tossed in his bed all night. He couldn't sleep."

Elvin began to cry. Haltingly he told how he and Rudolph had gone to the river after school to catch minnows. Rudolph fell in. He ran home, afraid to tell for fear he would be arrested.

Half an hour later Rudolph's body was brought to the surface.

60 MILE WIND CAUSES HAVOC ALL OVER CITY

A sixty mile gale rocked the Wilson avenue crib last night, raised the water forty-five inches, breaking all records for five years, forced small pack boats to put back into the harbor, broke windows in houses and stores north, south, and west, set a number of mercantile burglar alarms to ringing for the police, and gave the firemen great odds to fight.

Because of the wind the Miller building, a four story brick structure at 549 West Monroe street, was destroyed. The wind fanned the flames and even diverted the streams of water from the building. To add to the firemen's difficulties, the water pressure was low.

The building was occupied by the Chicago Furnace and Supply company, the Max Diamond company, and the A. H. McDonald company. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

GONZALES WITH TEXAS RAIDERS, OBREGON SAYS

Sends Army to Stop New Uprising.

BULLETIN. Laredo, Tex., April 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gen. Pablo Gonzales, who is said to have crossed into Mexico in revolt, was reported to be here tonight.

Mexico City, April 15.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gen. Pablo Gonzales, former provisional president, is undertaking a revolt against the Obregon government, according to a war office announcement. It was reported he had crossed the Rio Grande, and was about to cross. He has been living on the Texas border.

The war office announcement said sufficient federal troops were at hand to suppress Gen. Gonzales before his movement becomes serious.

The plans of the revolting general are believed here to contemplate the forming of a junction with rebel forces under Francisco Murguia and Candido Aguilar.

Call Step "Escape Valve."

The official version of the revolt is that it is "an escape valve which will serve to purge and purify the army of certain malicious elements which are well known and which will be dealt with."

Early in the present month Gen. Pablo Gonzales in Laredo, Tex., disclosed the existence of a plan to overthrow the Mexican government.

Gen. Gonzales then admitted it was his understanding that he would be approached and offered the leadership of the movement. In this connection he said:

"In the event that I accept the commission, which is within my right, I shall certainly continue to respect the laws of neutrality of this hospitable country, the cradle of human liberties."

Pablo Gonzales in turn has been minister of communications, commander of the constitutional forces in Mexico City, and for a period of three weeks in May, 1920, exercised the powers of provisional president subsequent to the evacuation of Mexico City by President Carranza.

The book, which is entitled "With the Battle Cruisers" is by Lieut. Filson Young of the British navy, a noted writer, who became a naval officer and served on Admiral Beatty's staff throughout the war. Filson Young, however, was more than a staff officer. He was Beatty's confidential friend, and there is no doubt that when he expresses an opinion on naval strategy or policy it is that of England's great fighting admiral, whose wife is a Chicago girl.

Filson Young is best known in the United States as a novelist. One of his most popular books in America was "The Sands of Pleasure." His new book will be published in America by Little, Brown & Co., and in England by Cassell & Co.

The chapters which this Tribune will publish describe the German raids on Scarborough and Hartlepool and the battle of Dogger Bank, in which, for the first time in the world's history, superdreadnaughts met in action. Filson Young witnessed this fight from the fighting top of the Lion.

Besides describing the battle, he tells for the first time why it was inconclusive and shows indisputably by charts what actually happened.

KILLED WHEN HE SWERVES AUTO TO AVOID CRASH

John Schuetzner, 4047 West 21st street, was killed last night when he swerved his machine and crashed into a street car at North avenue and Dayton street. He was pinned under his car which had turned over. His skull was fractured.

Five year old Frank Hittma was struck by an automobile yesterday evening in front of his home, 30 East 9th place. Burnside hospital physicians do not believe he will recover. Emmett Redding, 36 West 112th street, the driver of the automobile, was arrested, booked on a charge of assault, and released in $1,500 bonds.

John Panatias, 40 years old, 730 West 21st place, died last night of injuries received when an automobile he was cranking suddenly started and ran over him.

Gompers, 71, to Wed Artist, Aged 38, Soon

New York, April 15.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, authorized tonight the announcement of his engagement to Mrs. Gertrude Gleaves Neuscheler of this city. The marriage will take place in the near future. Mr. Gompers is 71. His first wife died last May.

The wedding will be before the annual convention of the A. F. of L. in Denver, in June. The engagement was rumored for some time in labor circles. It was confirmed today by Mrs. Neuscheler as well as by Mr. Gompers.

Mrs. Neuscheler was separated from her first husband by a divorce. She is 38 years old. Gompers is the father of six, through whom he has several grandchildren.

Mrs. Neuscheler, a blonde, is highly educated, a painter, and a musician. During the war she was active in patriotic work here and abroad.

The couple first met several years ago when Mr. Gompers lectured in Trenton, then the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gleaves, his fiancée's parents.

After the lecture Mr. Gleaves, an artist, potter, and a student of economics, was among those to congratulate the speaker. Thereafter the two were close friends, their intimacy ending with the removal of the Gleaves family to Zanesville, O.

MYSTERY GIRL IS FOUND DAZED IN ROCKFORD

Disappears from Cook County Hospital.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of 19 year old Eva Kraha, of 1393 North Western avenue, was solved yesterday when she was found dazed, on the doorstep of a Rockford home.

On April 13 she was brought to the Cook county hospital supposedly suffering from appendicitis. When she was placed in a ward cot for observation she began to giggle.

Girl Leaves Hospital.

That night, the girl's mother, Mrs. Hattie Kraft, came to the hospital and forbade the operation. The next day, she said, her husband would call and take Eva home.

Then the girl suddenly disappeared, and Dr. R. T. Vaughan, night superintendent, was unable to learn how she left the hospital.

Identified Through Cards.

Identification at the Rockford hospital, where she was still in a semi-conscious state, was made through several cards found in her possession. Eva's parents were notified and will go to Rockford today to take her home.

PEN ROSE SICK? THIS MAN TELLS WORLD HE'S NOT

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(Special.)—Senator Penrose, supposed to be ill, was stepping from an elevator in the capitol when a man sought to enter the cage. He gave Penrose a stiff bump along the belt line.

Without hesitation or comment, Penrose reached out, placed his hands under the arms of the bumper and threw him against the wall. He landed with such force as to jostle his teeth.

"Who was that?" inquired the man when he got his breath.

"Penrose," was the answer. "Penrose," exclaimed the man, "I thought he was sick!"

BANDIT KILLED, THREE HANGED, IN CRIME WAR

Second Bank Robber May Die of Wound.

"Crime got fair warning today," State's Attorney Crowe declared last night. "The hanging of three murderers is notice that the penalty for crime is going to be certain and swift."

Three men were hanged. Almost at the same time the town of Cicero showed the determination of the citizens of this community to deal energetically with criminals. One bank robber was shot dead; another was so badly wounded he may not live; two more were caught, and the loot, $10,000, was recovered.

Chief Eittemorris declared the day's events "buck up the public morale." This bucking up of morale put energy into the pursuit of four bandits who robbed two messengers on an Illinois Central suburban train.

If the police today succeed in catching the fifth member of a gang of robbers which yesterday undertook a raid on the Cicero State bank at Cicero avenue and 23th place they will be able to record the event as Cook county's most successful bank hold-up. In fact, the raid on the bank was a dismal failure.

The holdup occurred in the morning. One of the five bandits was killed; another perhaps fatally wounded, and two others captured. In the melee a policeman was shot.

A fifth member of the band escaped. The loot, a bag containing $10,000, was dropped by one of the captured bandits and was recovered. Police hope to arrest him today.

The dead man, Joseph Zromski, 1908 South Halsted street, a former engineer at the Congress hotel, was the gang leader. He was killed when a load of slugs from the shotgun of Cashier S. T. Witkowski struck him in the back as he fled from the bank.

Another Shot in Spine.

John Kraha, 1455 South Sangamon street, was shot through the spine and abdomen by Special Officer B. W. Delaney. He is at the county hospital and may die. Ludwig Zohrak, an ex-soldier, and Joseph Krozol, both giving the address of "1268 Augusta street, were the two captured.

The doctrine of preparedness frustrated the raiders. At each desk and cage in the bank is a floor push button which rings a gong signal in Cicero police station, two blocks away.

The bank had been open about two hours—the clock on the wall said 10:50. Witkowski, a world war veteran, and Vice President C. C. Stoffel were busy with customers. Miss Celis Witkowski, the cashier's sister, and two other clerks, the Misses Clara Miara and Clarabelle Wright, were at their desks behind the cages when the bandits drew up in front of the bank.

Four Enter with Guns Drawn.

Four of them left their car—a Chandler machine owned by Zromski and listed under the name of Julius Norwell, Zromski's uncle. Zromski was slightly in the lead as they entered the back door. All had revolvers.

"Put up your hands!" Zromski shouted. As they complied Witkowski, his sister, and one of the girl clerks pressed the alarm buttons, flashing the news to the police. Then both officers and customers were herded into a vault.

Zromski and another stood guard over the cash, awaiting the money in a sack. The fourth guarded the door.

Police Get the Alarm.

Meanwhile, in Cicero station, Police-man John Coulman, Special Officers Martin Kawczynski and Delaney, and City Electrician William Jannenga grabbed the nearest weapons and sallied forth. They were joined by Officer Steven Ficht.

Coulman was first to reach the bank. He met a fusillade of bullets. In the midst of which the bandit driver made his getaway. Kraha dashed past him to the street and met Officer Steven Ficht, who shot him in the knee. Kraha kept going. Delaney, armed with a rifle, followed him, pumping bullets. Kraha tried to leap a fence, Delaney dropping to one knee for snare aim, fired twice. Kraha fell. Meanwhile in the bank Zromski tried to bolt for the door. Witkowski, who had reached his shotgun, killed him with the first shot.

They ran, the bandits threw the money sack over a nearby fence, where it fell at the feet of Mrs. Stella Wolnowski, who snatched it in her basketful of washing and took wet clothes and all to the bank.

Jannenga caught up to Zebiak, tripped him, and as he fell, Krowciak, taking refuge in a basement at 437 West 24th place, was cornered by Kawczynski. The bandit had a gun, the officer did not, but made a motion as if to draw one. Krowciak dropped his gun. Kawczynski grabbed it.

THREE MEN HANGED

Three murderers yesterday met the "swift and certain justice" promised them by State's Attorney Crowe. They were hanged.

One of them was Sam Cardinella, dubbed "The Devil" and "The Murder King." To his leadership five cold blooded killings are ascribed.

For hours before the death march Cardinella paced his cell, wringing his hands, moaning and sobbing. His only conversation was a plea to his guards to rush him the news of a commutation if one came. When the death march time arrived he fought his guards like a maniac until he was exhausted. Finally he was carried to the scaffold in a chair, unable to stand erect, and, gibbering insanely in Italian, half insensible from fear, still cringing in the chair, he was executed.

Example Stirs Fear of Gangsters.

In "Little Italy" and "The Valley," where his gang had reigned supreme through threats of death, his going brought both expressions of fear and relief—fear from lesser gangsters of a similar fate and relief from the respectable and law abiding.

The other two hanged, Joe Costanzo and Sam Ferrara, were the ordinary type of holdup men, who made the mistake of killing their victim. Ferrara killed protesting his innocence. Both blamed an uncaptured member of their gang with the actual shooting, and could not understand their sentence to death as accomplices.

Cardinella died in eleven minutes, his neck broken. Costanzo struggled in twelve minutes and Ferrara was pronounced dead in fifteen.

A fourth man sentenced to be hanged yesterday, Antonio Lopez, a companion of Ferrara and Costanzo, was given a thirty day reprieve by Gov. Small. The reprieve reached Lopez as he was receiving absolution from the priest. New evidence has been produced tending to show Lopez was an innocent participant in the crime for which his companions were hanged.

DARING HOLDUP ON TRAIN

Worthless cancelled checks totaling $625,000 comprised the only loot of a daring daylight train robbery on an Illinois Central suburban train yesterday.

Eugene Oldenwald, 30, of 6311 Lakewood avenue, and Edward Sundmacher, 20, of Elmhurst, messengers for the Clearing House association, were assigned to carry the checks to outlying banks. They were "clearings" of the day before.

The two youths (TRIBUNE Photo.) boarded the train at the Randolph street station. At Van Buren two of the robbers jumped aboard and sat down opposite the two messengers. At Twelfth street two others jumped on the train. One found a seat beside the conductor at the farther end of the car, the other sat directly opposite.

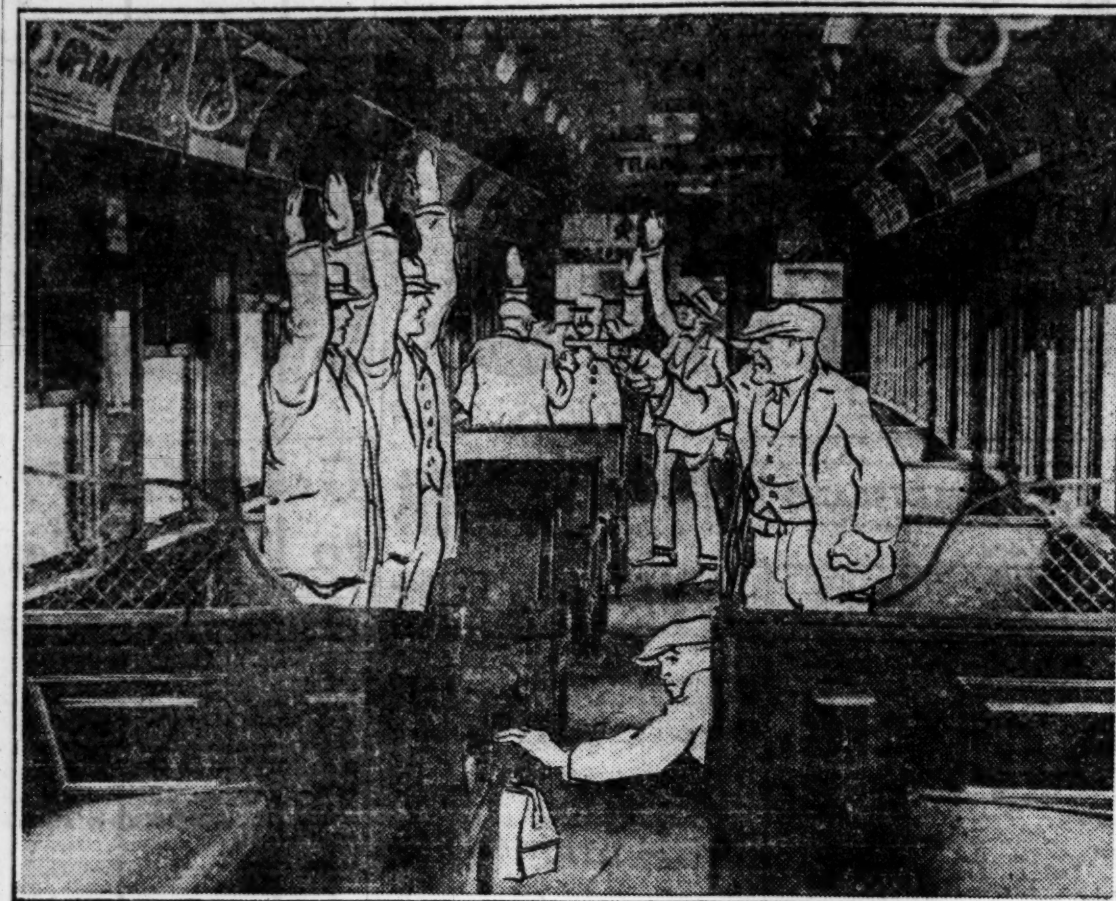

Holdup at 21st Street.

As the train neared 21st street the four men jumped to their feet. Two menaced the messengers and other passengers with revolvers; one held the conductor at bay, while the fourth pulled the bell cord.

The two catches full of checks were snatched from the messengers as the train stopped. The four bandits ran one block west and one block north, then escaped in a taxicab—said to have been a Checker cab.

At midnight last night one of the men had been identified by witnesses from pictures at the bureau of identification. Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes promises the arrest of all within forty-eight hours.

A TRAIN HOLDUP IN CHICAGO

The photodiagram shows how four robbers held up and robbed two clearing house messengers of checks for $625,000 on an Illinois Central train. Two of the robbers seated themselves opposite the messengers and held them at bay while taking the loot. Another stopped the train, while a fourth guarded the conductor, who was in the car held up.

MEVILLY, MAIL RAID AND MURDER SUSPECT, NABBED

John McEvilly, pal of Eddie Morris, was taken in connection with the "Polk street mail robbery" and the murder of an express messenger during a pay roll robbery several weeks ago.

Three more players, two of them Negroes, will be hanged next Saturday.

McEvilly was tried recently with Morris and Eddie McBride for the murder of Postman John Mullen. He and McBride were acquitted, while Morris was sentenced to life. A short time later Hyalamar Johnson, a messenger for Brinks Chicago City Express company, was shot and killed during a pay roll robbery, and McEvilly's photograph was identified by witnesses as that of the man who fired the shot.

While the police were looking for him on this charge the Polk street station was held up and nearly half a million dollars stolen. Again his photograph was identified as that of one of the robbers.

EINSTEIN PUTS HIS THEORY INTO SIMPLE WORDS

Relativity Is Clarified in His Address.

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Prof. Albert Einstein lectured on his theory of relativity today for the first time since he arrived in this country, before members of the science faculties of Columbia university and students.

"The relativity theory is not a closed theory, but a theory of method in which experience supplies the postulates and reasoning draws the conclusions," Prof. Einstein said.

Special relativity, he said, endeavors to find laws to account for the inability by its relation to another point. If two systems are moving past each other uniformly, either may be looked upon by the observer on one as at rest, with the other in motion.

Based on Newton's Law.

The basis of relativity is Newton's first law of motion that a body moves in a straight line with uniform velocity when far away from other bodies. Prof. Einstein set up two coordinate systems, which he sketched on a blackboard, to show that the motion which one particle in a system bears to another particle in another system may result in a curve.

In ordinary mechanics only one system is permissible, the second system being permissible only when it moved with motion uniform relative to the first.

The mechanics of Newton and Galileo embodies the special relativity principle, he said. There is no cause for doubt of this law in the mechanical field until electric and optical phenomena are examined.

Refers to Maxwell Theory.

Light travels in a straight line with uniform velocity in space, said Prof. Einstein, referring to Maxwell's theory of optical phenomena. He inquired in what coordinate system do Maxwell's laws hold?

If one coordinate system, which he sketched, moves with respect to the other, it should be expected that the velocity would be less if the second system moved in the direction of light. If this were true, special relativity would be violated because absolute motion could be detected.

Relativity relinquishes the absolute nature of simultaneity. In explaining this, Prof. Einstein drew a stick, its middle point to be determined by measurement. Simultaneous events take place at the ends when seen together from the middle, thus furnishing a criterion of simultaneity. To find the center there must be a measure. Simultaneity holds only for the special coordinate system. If it is simultaneous for one system it is not for the other, because by the time the light reached the observer at the middle of the stick he would have moved with respect to the other system.

Coordinates of Two Systems.

In stating the mathematical relations between space and time coordinates of two systems, so as to reconcile the special relativity and the constancy of the velocity of light, in order to formulate physical laws, Prof. Einstein again reverted to his example of the stick. A shortening of a stick in the direction of its motion as it could be measured by a stationary measure will do this, he said. This appears contradictory until the change in time is taken into account.

Another consequence is that the energy associated with a body determines its inertia, and that led him to lay down the law that "inertia is nothing but energy."

TORNADO KILLS 39, INJURES MANY IN ARKANSAS

Tag End of Storm Hits Mississippi.

Little Rock, Ark., April 16, 3 a. m.—Reports received by the Arkansas Gazette up to an early hour this morning give a total of thirty-nine persons dead as a result of the storm in southwestern Arkansas.

At least eleven are known to have been killed, more than thirty injured, some probably fatally, and heavy property damage caused near Texarkana. From fifteen to twenty are reported dead and scores injured after the storm swept the entire length of Hempstead county, from Red river to within a few miles of Hope, Ark.

One relief party reported they had found nine bodies between Sprudell and Dardanelle.

Apparently the storm leaped to Mississippi, where several persons were reported to have been injured in Copiah county. Telephone wires were down and little information was obtainable either in Hazlehurst or Jackson. Near the latter city the storm was accompanied by rain and the creeks overflowed, inundating farmlands.

Blizzard Grips Colorado.

Denver, Colo., April 15.—Denver was virtually isolated tonight by the worst storm of the year, which showed no sign of abating after more than 19 inches of snow had fallen. Railroads annulled all trains to the south. Wire communication was cut to only limited service to the east.

Greeley, Col., was without lights and power.

U. S. TO GET ON MANY EUROPEAN TREATY BODIES

According to Name Envoys to 'Guard Our Rights.'

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—(Special.)—President Harding contemplates the early resumption of American representation on the reparations commission and other European conferences dealing with matters involving American rights and interests.

It is not improbable that the first step will be the appointment of a representative to the Paris conference to be held by the allies on April 30 to consider the financial and economic situation in Austria. This conference was called at the instance of the American member of the Austro-German section of the reparations commission.

What Harding Pledged.

This projected procedure is in conformity with the peace program announced by the president, which includes the ratification of the Versailles treaty in so far as it relates to American interests. The reparations and economic sections of the treaty are among the parts which the president has pledged to accept.

While no moves toward effecting such partial ratification will be taken until the allies concede the validity of America's contentions in the controversy over the mandate territories, it is not doubted that Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan will yield on this score to the satisfaction of the United States and thereby pave the way for consideration of the question of the American acceptance of the treaty with reservations.

Troops May Stay on Rhine. If the United States ratifies that part of the treaty pertaining to reparations, it will become a party to the enforcement of that section and would be expected to maintain American troops on the Rhine during the period of years deemed necessary to compel compliance with the terms by Germany.

It is understood that former Premier Briand of France, who made his farewell call on the president today, has been assured of American cooperation along this line, provided the allies satisfy the United States in the matters now at issue.

On the whole the French statesman has reason to feel satisfied with the situation. While disappointed that the United States is not going to ratify the entire Versailles treaty and enter the League of Nations, he is gratified because the president's purpose is American participation in carrying out the reparations provisions, of paramount importance to France.

France Bids for U. S. Favor. It is significant that France, eager to satisfy the United States, has taken the lead in the effort to persuade Great Britain and Japan of the justice of American contentions in the mandate dispute.

It is possible that an American representative will resume his place in the reparations commission, either before or after the negotiations with the allies concerning American ratification of the treaty.

Commissioner Boyden, who was representing the United States, was withdrawn from the commission by President Wilson because the United States had not ratified the treaty.

With a numerous body of assistants he went to Paris, where he was expected to remain until the new administration should come into office. He is still there awaiting instructions.

The administration takes the position that America ought to be represented in the reparations commission and on various bodies dealing with economic features of the peace because these matters involve American interests.

Will Stand by Allies. The United States ought to have a voice, it is contended, in the determination of reparations terms if it is to carry out its purpose to stand with the allies in compelling payment by Germany to the full extent of its ability.

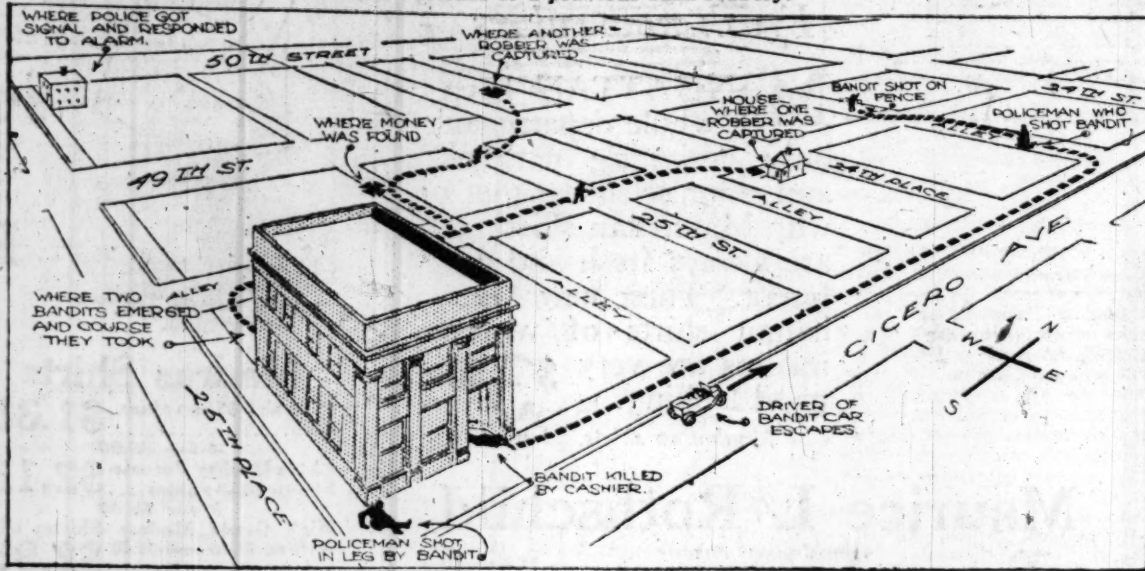

Moreover, the payment of the allied war debt to the United States is in part dependent upon the payment of reparations to the allies, particularly France. Likewise the levies on German exports affect the trade of the United States.

Altogether the economic and financial reconstruction of Europe is a matter of vital importance to the United States for commercial, if not for altruistic, reasons.

CICERONIAN CONCINNITY

Three young women employed in the bank, two of whom stepped on the alarm buttons which brought the police to the rescue. From left to right they are: Celia Witkowski, sister of the cashier; Clara Miara. All were veterans of a previous bank robbery.

The rapid sequence of events that followed the attempt to rob the Cicero bank are shown in the above photo-diagram. When the employees of the bank stepped on the alarm signals that summoned aid from the police station shown in the diagram, the four bandits who entered the bank separated. Two rushed out the front door. One was shot and killed on the threshold by Cashier Witkowski, the second shot Policeman Ficht, then fled north and was shot later by another policeman as he was climbing a fence. The other two bandits jumped through a rear window, separating after dropping the money taken from the bank. Both were captured. The driver of the car, left a short distance from the bank, was the only one to escape.

GERMAN FLAGS AT HALF MAST FOR KAISERIN

Imperial Honors for Late Ex-Empress.

POTSDAM, Germany, April 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—Flags of the old empire are flying at half mast along the streets of Potsdam today and mourning bands are evident on all sides. The shop windows are displaying portraits of former Empress Augusta Victoria draped in black and flower pieces bearing her insignia. Hundreds of individuals and societies are honoring the memory of the former queen, who will be buried on Tuesday next with imperial honors in the Antike temple adjoining the New palace in Sans Souci park, where she lived virtually all her married life.

Hundreds of persons formerly prominent already are arriving in Potsdam, which stands as an imperial oasis in republican Germany.

Hotels Are Requisitioned. The former lord chamberlain of the court, Count August von Eulerburg, has requisitioned all hotels for those coming to attend the funeral. The arrangements are progressing under virtually the same machinery as would have functioned were the empire still intact.

Hundreds of workmen are converting the old imperial station at Wild park into an embowered chapel in which the family and immediate friends of the late empress will receive the body and attend private services before the procession starts through the tree lined lane leading immediately past the New palace to the temple, which will become the ex-empress' tomb. Although Frederick the Great erected the little temple for his own mausoleum, he is buried in a garrison church and the former empress will be his first occupant.

Notables Reach Doorn. DOORN, Holland, April 15.—Many friends of former Emperor William and additional members of his family arrived in Doorn today to accompany the body of the former German empress to Potsdam.

U. OF M. MAY GET GREATER PART OF $8,600,000 ASKED

Lansing, Mich., April 15.—The indications today were that the greater part of the $8,600,000 appropriation asked by the University of Michigan for the next two years would be granted.

The house ways and means committee recommended an increase in the university mill tax and the senate finance committee reported out the university appropriation bill, which it had reduced to $5,300,000.

The committee ordered the bill printed by Monday so it could be acted on by both houses before adjournment April 29. For 1921-22, the committee recommended $2,800,000 be allowed the university. Of that sum, $300,000 would be for completion of the new hospital. For 1922-23, $7,500,000 was recommended.

WIFE REJECTS STOKES OFFER OF CASH AND QUIET

She Wants All His Charges Denied.

New York, April 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Helen Edw. Stokes has rejected an eleven-hour offer of her husband, W. E. D. Stokes, to settle their divorce litigation out of court.

Mrs. Stokes demanded, according to her counsel, that the first preliminary to the settlement should be a complete public withdrawal signed by her husband of all the charges made against her in the present action. To this, the wife's attorneys assert, he refused to consent. The hearings will be resumed Monday.

Questioned concerning reports of a settlement, Mr. Stokes said: "I offered her everything; money, the children, everything; I wanted to have a secret proceeding to save her feelings. I was willing to go to Westchester or anywhere, but she tricked me."

Martin Littleton, for Mrs. Stokes, admitted that the proposal had been "taken over," and that she had accepted it.

But when Stokes served an ultimatum on Mrs. Stokes that she must act in twenty-four hours, it was too much. She replied that he must publicly withdraw his charges over his own signature before she would consider it.

Mrs. Stokes, it is admitted, will ask only a separation from her husband. Stokes, it is said, agreed to settle a third of his property, valued at millions, on the children, but would not agree to give his wife more than $1,500 a month.

'COLOMBIA PACT REEKS OF OIL AND PORK AND SHAME'

Therefore It Will Win, Is Cry of Its Opponents.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(Special.)—The Colombian treaty was the target for intensive bombardment by the opposition in the senate today. Charges were made by Senator Tom Watson, Georgia, Democrat, that Standard Oil influence was back of the sudden change of mind by Republican leaders, who, after consistently opposing the treaty for seventeen years, are now advocating its ratification.

Senator Johnson, California, Roosevelt's running mate on the Progressive ticket in 1912, sharply criticized the Harding administration for preaching economy and then, as its first act, advocating the "squandering of $25,000,000 on Colombia for a mythical purpose yet to be disclosed."

Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, Republican, was no less vigorous in his denunciation. He declared that Senator Lodge and other Republican leaders, in explaining their change of front, had failed to produce the slightest convincing evidence that Theodore Roosevelt ever abandoned his belief that the $25,000,000 was "international blackmail."

Nevertheless, there is every indication that the treaty will be ratified. A considerable number of Republican senators who denounce the treaty in private conversation, are unwilling to break with the Harding administration on the first issue brought before them, especially while much patronage remains undistributed, as one of them put it today.

Senator Curtis, Republican whip, visited the White House, and told President Harding that the treaty would be ratified. He expects about sixty-eight votes in favor of it. Only sixty-four are necessary to ratify. The president expressed pleasure over the outlook.

Lodge's Change of Front. "With more than usual attention I listened to Senator Lodge's argument," Senator Watson said during the debate. "After having repeated that he would never consent, as he did a few years ago, he consented, and he did it because of an oil proposition that Secretary Fall piped into the treaty."

"Are we the agents of the Standard Oil company—that and nothing more? When did that infant, protected in all its roots and branches, need our assistance in grabbing foreign oil fields?"

"Yet Senator Lodge, after what he so forcibly said ten years ago about blackmailers, marauders, bandits—after calling these Colombians by every possible name of reproach, now virtually says: 'Secretary Fall has deceived me; there is a great deal of oil down there that the Standard Oil and other companies want.'"

"Let's Be Oil Agents Openly." "Well, if we are here to buy property for the Standard Oil company, let us go on and do it and let us not make any concealment about it."

Senator Johnson declared that the treaty "does more than wrong" Theodore Roosevelt. "It wrongs and dishonors a great nation," he said. "The name of Roosevelt is secure; the Panama canal is his monument. I decline to write upon that monument 'dishonor to my country, and infamy to our people.'"

"If we have $25,000,000 to squander today, in the first days of the Republican administration, let us squander it upon our farmers in relieving their distress; let us give it to our soldiers who upheld the flag, or let us devote it to ameliorating the widespread unemployment."

Twenty-five million dollars under this treaty paid is $25,000,000 thrown away and squandered, and paid for the very purpose of writing our own infamy and our own dishonor. I cannot support this treaty."

WASHINGTON NEWS—IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15. President Harding contemplates the early resumption of American representation on the reparations commission and in other European conferences dealing with matters involving American rights and interests.

Measures to improve business conditions throughout the country were discussed today at the cabinet meeting. It was agreed that the railroad situation is the key to the problem.

The Colombian treaty was violently attacked in the senate. In spite of the strong opposition to it among both Republicans and Democrats, however, the present indications are that it will be ratified.

Shipment of arms and ammunition to Ireland would be prohibited under the proposed amendment to the act of 1912, requested by the state department, to prevent such shipments to any country for use in aiding revolutions.

The house by a vote of 269 to 112 passed the emergency tariff bill. Half a dozen Republicans opposed it, while about a dozen Democrats supported the measure.

Representative Good, chairman of the house appropriations committee, declared that revenue from internal taxation need not exceed from $2,500,000,000 to $2,750,000,000, instead of $4,000,000,000, as asserted by President Harding.

ASKS CORRECTION IN PRISON WRIT FOR CHAMBLISS

Efforts to have corrected a technical error in the mittimus on which Dorsey Chambliss, Negro ex-policeman, was taken to the penitentiary, were made by the state before Judge Lewis yesterday. Assistant State's Attorney McShane said the jail order read "abduction" instead of "keeper of a disorderly house," the charge on which Chambliss was convicted. Hearing on the motion to have the order corrected was postponed several weeks in order to give Attorney Ferdinand Barnett, representing the convicted policeman, an opportunity to prepare his case. Chambliss was charged with luring Bertha Wiebeck, 16-year-old white girl, who died in the county hospital, to her downfall.

SULU SULTAN'S WARRIORS HARK TO ISLAM AGENT

May War if the Philippines Are Freed.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
MANILA, April 15.—Recent news of a Mohammedan agitation in some of the outlying islands of the Dutch East Indies has given rise to renewed fears that the Moros, who inhabit the Sulu archipelago and are under the direction of the Sultan of Sulu, who holds forth in the island of Jolo, also will make a move for independence.

A similar fear is entertained by some of the leaders of Iqilish North Borneo. The Sultan of Sulu always has given his assurance that the Mohammedans will remain loyal to the United States so long as it holds dominion over the islands. But there are some grounds for the fear that if the United States casts the Philippines adrift the Moros may declare their independence of the Christian tribes of the north, who are ancient, if passive, enemies.

Began in Dutch Islands.
The entire agitation originated in Middle Celebes, where De Kat Angeli, controller for the Dutch government, was murdered by natives of the town of Toli Toli. The murder is said to have followed a fanciful address by Abdol Moes, who exhorted the natives not to obey the Dutch government, but to join the Sarekat Islam movement.

The Moros and other non-Christians of Mindanao in the Philippines, where the Mohammedan religion also is strong, recently have asserted that they are not hostile to the Philippine government, but urge caution in enforcing compulsory education. They recently have sent a letter to the governor in which they deny that they are opposing the labors of the Christians or their presence in the island, which is as large as the state of Ohio and is the most fertile and desirable of all the islands in the archipelago.

Letter from Leaders.
The letter was written by the municipal presidents and other officials of Cotabato, where the ill-treatment of Christian laborers who had been sent to the province was alleged.

"We are hoping for the day when we will be educated enough to bring us

FRENCH DEPUTY RAPS PURCHASE OF U. S. STOCKS

(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, April 15.—Charges against the integrity of the United States government were made in the French chamber of deputies this afternoon during a debate on the purchase by France of the left over American army stocks for $400,000,000.

That America continued selling large amounts of stock after the French had "bought everything" that 30,000 automobiles were found to have been stolen and an equal number of motorcycles to have disappeared when the French took possession, were charges made by Deputy Yvassour, while heckling former Secretary of State Broussé, who formerly had charge of liquidating the stocks.

M. Broussé stated that he had demanded that the American government make restitution for a huge amount of goods that had been stolen, but said he had received no response. Although the inventory listed 72,500 automobiles, only 42,000 were delivered, he said.

The American army administration was bitterly criticized for leasing property at annual rentals ten times greater than the amount necessary for buying the property outright. Under the sale contract the French must settle these claims.

PACKER WILSON GIVES 50 HEROES VICTORY MEDALS

Escorted by mounted cowboys and a brass band, fifty employees of Wilson & Co. marched up to the general office building of the packing firm yesterday to receive their Victory medals. They were presented by Thomas E. Wilson, head of the concern.

"I understand you were wounded several times," he said as George Thomas came limping up.

"Yes, sir," replied the veteran, "and I'm ready to be wounded again any old time the U. S. A. tells me to get into uniform."

Wilson whacked him on the back. "That's the way to talk your man," said the packer, "I'm proud of you."

ARGENTINA GETS "SHARP NOTE" ON PORT BOYCOTT

BUENOS AIRES, April 15.—Fredrick J. Stimson, United States ambassador to Argentina, today sent what is described as a vigorous note to the Argentine foreign office again insisting that action be taken to release the steamer Martha Washington from the boycott of port workers, and reiterate the verbal representations he made to Foreign Minister Pueyrredon on Wednesday.

Mr. Stimson's action came as a result of the continued failure of the Argentine government to take satisfactory measures to release the American steamer.

BERLIN DRAFTS NEW PROPOSALS ON WAR CLAIMS

Would Assume Debts of Allied Nations.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, April 15.—(By Wireless.)—Germany is preparing new proposals for the reparations which Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, favors transmitting to the allies through the Swiss or American governments.

The plan being drafted by Wilhelm Simons embraces two primary points. 1. Reconstruction of the devastated regions by utilizing German labor and material, but offering extra compensation to France for not employing French workmen nor using French material.

2. Assumption of the allies' war debts, in lieu of payment of reparations, by effecting a great international loan.

Wants Friend to Plead.

Dr. Simons, who has just returned from Berlin from Switzerland, is anxious to obtain the consent of President Schmitt or President Harding to mediate with the allies to prevent the French from beginning military operations against Germany on May 1. Dr. Simons wants an intermediary to urge the French to delay the execution of occupation until Germany's new proposals are submitted, but he wants out that the details of the new proposals are not to be discussed until the execution of Upper Silesia is settled. Although the French persistently have rejected the German offers to reconstruct the war shattered zone by use of German labor and material, it was done to protect French labor and industry. The Germans have evaded a scheme to protect both and at the same time to employ German workers and use German material as they claim they are not able to hire French workers nor to pay for French material.

Success of Loan Assured.

Germany reports that it has already been assured of the success of an international loan covering reparations and the allied war debts through the medium and guarantee of the reparations commission.

The Dutch, Scandinavian, Swiss, Spanish, and certain South American governments are stated to be willing to participate in a large share of the loan, but the big German-American banking groups in the United States are expected to subscribe the bulk of the necessary funds. Representatives of four great American banking groups are reported to have already pledged their support.

During his trip to Switzerland Dr. Simons is declared to have obtained President Schulthess's promise to act as an intermediary and to have secured Italy's agreement to the proposal.

Germany is apprehensive lest lack of time may result in the application of the sanctions before the French realize the good faith behind the new proposals.

It is reported in Paris that the United States has unofficially invited Germany to send a diplomatic delegate to Washington to represent Germany when the senate acts on the separate peace resolution.

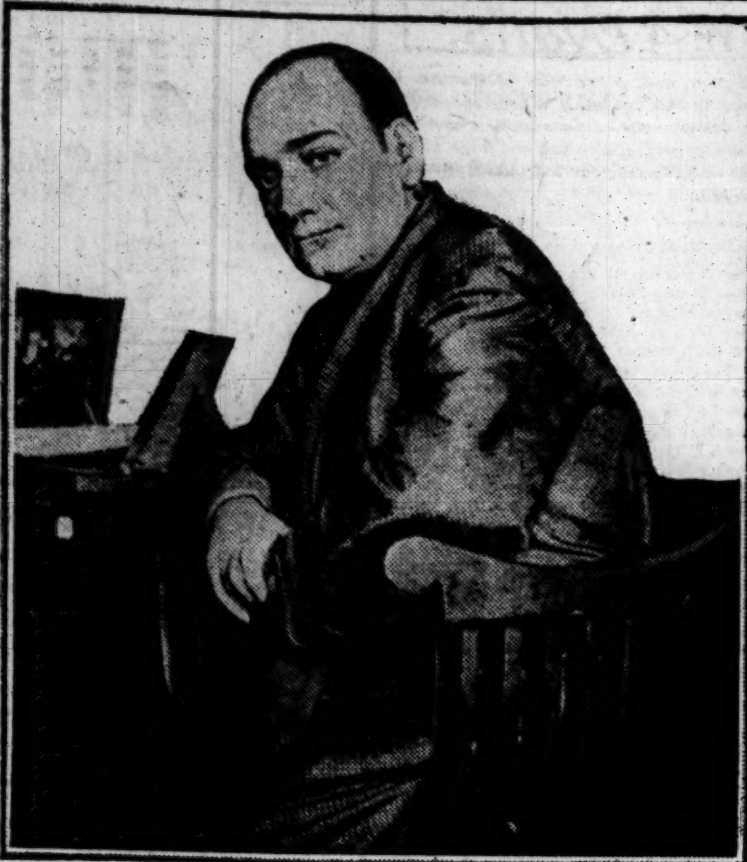

Wilhelm Simons is reported to have selected Count Montagu as its representative at Washington. He will interpret the German viewpoint and will be empowered to speak on behalf of the reichstag in discussing the projected separate peace.

Discuss Germany's Fate.

A government conference was held at the Elysee palace this morning, when the highest officials of the French republic discussed what operations would be undertaken if no agreement was reached with Germany on reparations by May 1. President Millerand, Premier Briand, M. Barthou, minister of war, M. Doumer, minister of finance, M. Loucheur, minister of the liberated regions, M. Maréchal Foch and Pétain, and Gen. Busat, Degoutte, and Weygand were present.

It is rumored the military chiefs submitted plans for the occupation of the Ruhr basin and Frankfurt and an alternative plan of sealing a line along the Main river and establishing contact with Czechoslovakia, thereby cutting Bavaria away from Germany.

VATICAN FAVORS IRISH FREEDOM, MANNIX STATES

French Deputy Speaks for Emerald Isle.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, April 15.—"Despite English propaganda to the contrary, the vatican solidly supports Irish independence," said Archbishop Mannix of Australia at a banquet given by Sean O'Connell, the "Irish ambassador" to France, last night.

"I am happy that Premier Lloyd George has considered the situation serious enough to bar me from visiting the land of my birth and my aged mother," declared the archbishop. "But in the near future you will see Ireland independent."

French Deputy for Erin.

Marc Sangnier, a member of the French chamber of deputies, compared Ireland with Poland and Alsace-Lorraine, and declared that France was equally as interested in obtaining liberty and freedom for Ireland as for any other country.

"There is a tremendous feeling, even among the officials of the French government, to see Ireland obtain fair play. Justice for Ireland ranks above any political alliances, and the French people are solidly in favor of Ireland receiving her rights," said Sangnier.

FREED IN MURDER CASE

BY JOHN LESTER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
DUBLIN, April 15.—After evidence for the defense closed and without hearing the summing up of counsel, the Dublin court martial today found Capt. King and Auxiliary Cadet Hinchfield, charged with the murder of a civilian named Murphy, not guilty. The accused and Cadet Welch were then formally charged with the murder of a civilian named Kennedy, but the prosecutor intimated the charges would be dropped.

Patrick O'Neill, former army captain, was shot and wounded while looking through his bedroom window in Dublin today. The assailant called at the room, but the door was closed in his face, and later when he saw O'Neill at the window he shot him.

50,000 EXPECTED TO LINE UP IN PARADE OF IRISH

Demonstration Tomorrow
Precedes Convention.

A parade in which more than 50,000 men and women are expected to participate will be held in Michigan avenue tomorrow as the first demonstration of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

Eamonn P. Butler, grand marshal, whose young brother is a prisoner of the British in an Irish jail, last night declared the parade would be one of the greatest ever held in Chicago.

There will be thirty or more floats picturing the high lights in Irish history since the days of the Druids. One float representing the Celtic cross will be escorted by scores of girls in nurse costumes.

Parade Starts at 3 P. M.

The parade will assemble at 2 o'clock and start from Chicago avenue down the boulevard an hour later, disbanding at 14th street. A detail of mounted police will lead, followed by a company of cowboys. The third division will be a force of former fighters in uniform, led by Capt. P. J. Dineen, an overseas veteran. After them will come the council of the association, with Robert Emmet council in the van.

Col. Dan Moriarty will be in command. Congressman William E. Mason, Judge Marcus Kavanagh, and Judge William E. Dever will march in this division.

Delegates to the national convention of the association began arriving yesterday. The convention will open Monday at Medinah temple. Former Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff of New York will be chairman.

Bishop Fallows Indorses Relief. "Being fully persuaded of the non-political and unreligious campaign of the American Committee for Relief in Ireland by a Protestant clergyman came yesterday from the Rt. Rev. Dr. Samuel Fallows, presiding bishop of the Reformed Episcopal church in the United States, who wrote:

"Being fully persuaded of the non-political and nonsectarian character of the program of the American Committee for Relief in Ireland, and feeling that this great movement is to help a suffering people, and knowing that the funds for the relief of these needy ones will be administered by the Society of Friends, I fully approve all efforts being made by the committee in its Chicago campaign."

Other Clergymen Back Move.

Another indorsement was received by Dr. P. Kelly, chairman of the committee, from the Rev. William B. Spalding, rector of St. George's Episcopal church and managing editor of the Witness, a national Episcopal paper published here weekly.

The campaign also was approved by the Rev. J. H. L. McCoy, pastor of Rayfield Baptist church, Hyde Park, and the Rev. J. P. Brunningham, pastor of the Central Park Methodist church, George M. Reynolds, Illinois treasurer for the relief committee at 7 West

OBSERVING ARBOR DAY

It was a jaw and gusty day, but for all that the children of the Henry Booth Settlement house, 14th place and Union street, observed it as Arbor day and planted sixteen trees and numerous flowers. Mrs. Richard Kulchar, head resident of the house, and Miss Ruth Salzman, head of the girls' club, were in charge of the ceremonies. The girls shown planting the tree, from left to right, are: Rose Lander, Helen Marcus, Ida Kruger, Sophia Sartansky.

Madison street, received these latter two communications.

The Rev. Mr. McCoy said the Baptist Ministers' association will consider a resolution to indorse the American committee's campaign at a meeting on Monday and the entire offerings of a Sunday in all the Baptist churches of Chicago may be given to the relief work in Ireland.

The total for last Sunday's offerings in every Roman Catholic church in the archdiocese has now reached the approximate sum of $150,000.

WILLIE DALTON TRIAL APR. 27 IN CRIMINAL COURT

William Dalton, the 16 year old boy who tried to embezzle $772,000 in Liberty bonds from the Northern Trust company, entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned yesterday before Chief Justice McDonald in Criminal court. His trial was set for April 27. Judge McDonald ruled Dalton should be tried in the Criminal court. Ben Short, counsel for the youth, had denied the right of the Criminal court to try the case without consent of the juvenile court.

Attorney Short declared Dalton's was certainly a case for the juvenile court. "Society has no right," he said, "to brand this youth as a criminal." Young Dalton looked the picture of health. He would not talk, however, and his attorney entered his plea. Had the case been tried in juvenile court the punishment in case of conviction would probably have been much lighter.

A review of the action of the election commissioners of Park Ridge in denying E. Leslie Cole and Charles Hamburger the privilege of placing their names on the ballot for mayor and city treasurer at the recent election was asked in a bill filed in the Superior court yesterday.

ASK EMBARGO ON ARMS SHIPMENTS OUT OF AMERICA

Friends of Erin Oppose Proposed Amendment.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—An absolute embargo on the shipment of arms and munitions from the United States to Ireland would result from an amendment to the act of 1912, prohibiting the shipment of munitions from American countries, asked by the state department.

The senate foreign relations committee, mystified by the proposed amendment, which is a blanket prohibition against shipment of arms and munitions to any foreign country where they might be used for revolutionary purposes, decided today to ask the state department for more information on the subject.

According to explanations thus far made, foreign powers have asked the United States to join in a general movement to prevent the shipment of arms to countries where revolutions are in progress. The identity of the powers interested has not been disclosed.

Reports are current that plans for extensive shipments of arms to Ireland from the United States have been discovered and that this discovery had an important bearing on the action of the state department in appealing to congress for the embargo. Friends of the Irish republic in congress are preparing to fight the amendment.

A Book of the Backstairs About an Empress

THE TRUE STORY OF THE EM-PERESS EUGENIE, by the Count de Boussiers. Large octavo, pp. 228; eight illustrations. John Lane company.

BY EYE WITNESS.

THE Count de Boussiers' new book about the third empress of the French is a book of the back-stairs. It is also a book of tragedy. What other thing than a book of the backstairs can any intimate book about the second empire be? That remains began in a crime, a shameful, senseless crime; for nearly two decades

lived on foot and in lust, and it died at last in a debacle that was so truly a righteous judgment of heaven or otherwise that not the sorrows of any dynasty—and those sorrows were numerous and bitter—could outweigh the heart of mankind toward the second empire.

Napoleon III. was of his times, and his times were foetid. When they had purged themselves with gunpowder, they finished with him and he passed unlamented away. Not even his sufferings could truly endear him to any man or persuade the world to spare him. Even sentimental glamor failed to envelop him. Charles the promise breaker won that much aims from oblivion, and Charles, if he was also was regal and real. Louis Napoleon was pinchbeck.

Since '48 he and his band had been embroidering nations, breaking promises, fabling in stocks, and making mischief, and of all that business Eugenie was a part. She had sufficient talent to be a porcelaine, but not enough to make her a sagacious counselor. She was not an intellectual, and she loved business in a dilettante way, but she never was, except as a trouble maker, so much important as self-important. She was fairly swollen with that latter attribute. She had high spirits, but not loftiness of spirit. She could not forbear to meddle, but with the perversity pretty, petty woman soon acquire, she seemed at times to love mischief for its own sake.
Often it was extremely stupid mischief. She thought it amusing to push the emperor from behind when he was bending over a plant in a public garden, and so make him a mock before his capital.

That she personally was pure no man doubts. That she was an influence for purity no man can maintain.
What the Count de Boussiers has once told in a blistering half page,
she exercised an influence for nothing except pretty clothes and international mischief. She hectored and flustered her sick emperor into the war and when the debacle she had helped to foment overtook her she fled in a cloud. Poetry does not envelop her.
Fate did, but it did not consecrate
her. That is her ultimate tragedy.
She played on a big stage draped with every splendor save moral splendor, but her exit was little.

She died for eighteen years in a shoddy way—shoddy with threads of glitter in it—what never has been successfully done. She played the empress. Even the great Napoleon could not successfully playact emperor. It was only as a chieftain that he was effective. When he ordered the trappings that incumbered him. He tripped and went headlong.

To such reflections, obvious enough,
the count's book leads the mind of him who will read it right. It is, in one word, an excellent specimen of a kind of book which the French do excellently—namely, the chronicle scandalous, to which they bring a mail-dresses so suave that it serves for a kind of art. The result is a beguiling volume for those whose taste is for scandal in high places and one of mournful instruction for the student of an age when a great people sit murmuring away a generation of opportunity with pinched pleasures and blyng diplomacy.

How Eugenie playedactress empress
one of the scenes of that would have inspired Moliere, what fashions she set, whom she hated and whom few indeed she loved, the book tells. When it seems unavailing it is perhaps most instructive; when it sounds trivial then it is saddest. I lay it down feeling not so much its pliancy as the poignancy of it all—of all that waste and glittered squalor.

An emperor with a soubrette on his lap, a lady in waiting at the keyhole, then an empress thrilling, she whose eyelids twitched sometimes because as a girl she had drunk poison for the love of a lover.

A court with splendors but without savor; fair; peccadilloes, adventures outrageous, schemes, fiascos, levies, and without grandeur. Truly a nation's destiny capering is a fearsome spectacle.
So much of history seems only that.

THE EMPRESS EUGENIE.

Une Scene de l'Enfer

Here is a sonnet to take to a quiet corner and read in a musing mood to yourself, and then again to yourself. Any man who can write the last line of David Morton's
"Napoleon in Hades" comes near to being a veritable poet, and any man who has stood before this tremendous thing "Une Scene de l'Enfer" on the east wall of the Wier-tman museum in Brussels will realize that David Morton has done something not less wonderful, though in a different strain. Antony Wierman has Hades re-created with shriking wrath; in Morton's poem the note is whispering menace, but both the painter and the poet catch the gleam of the "world tragedies thick-crowding through his eyes."

THEY stirred uneasily, drew close their capes,
And whispered each to each in awed surprise,
Seeing this figure brood along the shapes, World tragedies thick-crowding through his eyes.

On either side the ghostly groups drew back,
In huddled knots, yielding him away
and room,
Their foolish mouths agape and fallen
slack,
Their blood-fingers pointing through the gloom.

Still lonely and magnificent in guilt,
Splendid in scorn, wrapt in a cloudy
dream,
He paused at last upon the Stygian slit,
And raised calm eyes above the angry
stream.

He paused at last upon the Stygian slit,
And raised calm eyes above the angry
stream.
Held in his breast, he stood till Charon came,
While Hades hummed with gossip of his name.

Who David Morton is I know not, though from time to time encountering his verse in the best periodicals—Harper's, Century, Bookman, and the like. "Who's Who" records him not. But Putnam's Sons publish this month in a thin, mannerly octavo volume (pp. xii + 101). It contains ninety of Mr. Morton's poems and bears the title of the lovely last one, "Ships in Harbour."
Price slip I do not find, but should think the volume would cost a dollar or so. It is worth it. "Battlefields" (p. 111) I would love to quote. The last four lines of "The Kings Are Passing Deathward" I cannot restrain.

The essay redubious is once more with us. Not precisely the literary form it was in the hands of Addison and Steele, not yet conforming to the type of an Emerson or an Irving, a Poe or a Lowell, but a vigorous and, as statistics show, a good selling medium.
Writes the Boston Herald in praise of the tonic quality of the essay: "When half-gods go, the gods arrive," said the old saw. It may be that new literary goths worthy of adoration have not yet been enthroned, but the essayist of today is driving many half-gods from the field."

"This engrossing history gives such an account of the Peace Negotiations

Oswald Garrison Villard

"From Robert Lansing has come the most important contribution to the history of the Versailles Treaty, of the League of Nations, and of Woodrow Wilson which has yet appeared. Only the intimate memor Clemenceau could surpass Mr. Lansing's statement as purely historical material."

Parson-Banker Praises New Kind of Gift Book

Why? Whence? Whither?

BY REV. G. A. MACWHORTER.

(Director of "The Bank of Kindness.")

IN the midst of appeals, campaigns, and drives for foreign, domestic,
and local relief funds, when every citizen is asked to give of his means to some emergency cause almost every day, a modest little book that comes suddenly to give "comfort for distressed givers and helpful information for all givers" is most assuredly welcome.

"Sympathy and System in Giving" is a sound, hopeful and encouraging book in title for such a book, and upon careful perusal of the eleven short chapters of Elwood Street's scientific and sympathetic exposition of the Why? the Whence? and the Whither?
of giving, one slips the handy little book into one's pocket and turns to the recording of the day's most urgent appeal and the heartfelt response of the great city's army of givers, convinced that the heart and the head
can work together in the doing of good unto all men.

Mr. Street is well qualified to write on giving, both as a director of one's service, for he is the director of the Louisville Welfare league and secretary of the American Association for Community Organization, and he has made a distasteful job of giving, growing library of that latest science called "social service."

Though many reasons for giving are enumerated here and there throughout the book, the last line in the book tells the chief reason, and perhaps, after all, the only one, in words that have come down to us through nineteen hundred years: "For we are members, one of another."

"Sympathy and System in Giving" points the way for one to become a more sympathetic, a more intelligent,
and a more effective giver, and as one of the National Social Science series, published not to solve problems but to point out some of the vital ones
in our intricate social order and explain in simple terms the most thorough conclusions that have as yet been reached concerning them. It is a very good introduction to the series,
edited by Frank L. McVey, Ph. D., LL. D., president of the University of Kentucky.

A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, are

cial Science series—now listing twenty-three separate volumes—at a retail

REALTORS FIGHT $4,800,000 FEES FOR "EXPERTS"

Leaders to Meet to Plan War on City's System.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

President Lewis M. Smith has decided that the Chicago real estate board should show its hand and raise its voice on the city's proposed payment of more than $4,800,000 to five real estate and building experts. Such fees unnecessarily increase taxes, tend to retard public improvements, and confer no honor or credit upon the real estate business.

"I have called a meeting of the president's council for next Tuesday to decide what to do and how to do it," Mr. Smith said yesterday. "This meeting is called to consider this expert fee question, and that alone."

Members Called to Act.

To that conference there has been invited the following:

E. A. Cummins, Joseph Donners, Henry A. Knott, George L. A. Seaberg, Willis W. Bair, Chas. D. Richards, Frank G. Hoyne, Edward S. Judd, Albert H. Wetter, John F. Wallace, F. S. Oliver, E. M. Willoughby, C. S. Egan, G. H. Taylor, Paul Steinbrecher, V. H. Surghor, Perkins S. Bass, Ivan O. Ackerly, Adolph F. Kramer, Wm. A. Bond.

These are all former presidents of the Chicago real estate board, concerning which the last named, Adolph F. Kramer, said three months ago in his retiring address: "Your board has been a leader and has taken a position in the front rank of all movements for the betterment of Chicago and the real estate interests."

Decisive Action Foreseen.

No indication was obtainable of what action the president's council will take, nor would Mr. Smith give any hint of what he is prepared to suggest to it.

From another source it was learned, however, that President Smith would "prefer silence to a mild or meaningless statement" by the officers of the board, and that he thinks the time has arrived for the board to say something so "plain and pertinent" that it "can be fully comprehended by those who are not versed in the real estate business."

On top of this session nineteen manufacturing associations have called a meeting for Springfield on May 3 to protest against the proposed increases in taxes. They are particularly hostile to the bill which would grant general licensing powers for revenue to cities and villages throughout the state.

Many Cities in Movement.

The Illinois Manufacturers' association is taking the lead in the movement, but the meeting has also been called in the name of the following organizations:

Peoria Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, Tri-City Manufacturers' association, Rockford Manufacturers' association, Manufacturing Association of Alton, Fox River Valley Manufacturing association, Manufacturing Association of Belleville, Bloomington Merchants and Manufacturers' association, Manufacturers' association of Champaign and Urbana, Decatur Merchants and Manufacturers' association, East Side Employers' association (East St. Louis), Freeport Manufacturers, Galesburg Merchants and Manufacturers, Kankakee Manufacturers, Illinois Valley Manufacturers, American Open Shop association of Quincy, Rockford Manufacturers and Shippers, Sterling Manufacturers and Shippers, Streator Manufacturers, Manufacturers of Chicago Heights, and Manufacturers of Waukegan and North Shore.

The legislators will be asked to attend a meeting at the Leland hotel, where they think of the proposed tax legislation," explained John M. O'Brien, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

MR. MINOTTO, NOT COUNT, NOW; HE'S A YANK AT LAST

Count Giacomo Michale Minotto, son-in-law of Louis F. Swift, millionaire packer, won his four-year legal battle yesterday to change his Italian title for the prefix "Mister." He walked into the courtroom of Federal Judge Carpenter—the same courtroom in which he was committed to the alien enemy detention camp at Fort Oglethorpe three years ago—an Italian citizen, and left it twenty minutes later an American.

Mrs. Minotto was in court with her husband. When Chief Naturalization Examiner F. C. Schlotfeldt charged the regulation fee—$1.50—for the change in citizenship, the ex-count was unable to pay. He had no change. Mrs. Minotto produced the proper amount. Mr. and Mrs. Minotto are now residents of Lake Forest. Yesterday they obtained passports for a tour of England, France, Denmark, and Italy.

Lawyer Working on Mayor's Traction Plan Whose Pay Hit Peak of Amounts Paid to Staff of Eight.

EDWARD H. WRIGHT.

REPORTS to the city council show that Edward H. Wright, Thompson-Lundin committee man from the Second ward, drew $30,612 for his work on the legal features of Mayor Thompson's traction scheme. "Silent Ed," as the colored lawyer is known among his city hall associates, was employed at the rate of $100 a day. His bill was higher than those of any of the seven other lawyers who, Controller Harding's report says, worked on the bill at from $50 to $150 a day.

CITY SETS 50 CENTS A QUART AS FAIR PRICE ON ICE CREAM

FAIR retail prices for ice cream, as announced yesterday by the council committee on living costs, are 50 cents a quart and from 45 to 50 cents for bricks.

"Our survey," Secretary Russell J. Poole reported to Chairman Adamowski, "shows that ice cream of the same manufacturer, same brand, and same wholesale price is retailed in different sections of the city at anywhere from 50 cents to $1 a quart. Ice cream cones are selling at from 3 to 11 cents. Cones can be sold at a profit at 5 cents.

"The present price per gallon of brick ice cream was 30 cents to $1 and about 50 cents for bulk. The present price to the retailer per gallon of bricks is $1.30; bulk standard, $1.10, and so-called specials, $1.20 to $1.30. There is keen competition among wholesalers and I am informed in some localities ice cream is bought as low as $1 a gallon. We consider that a fair price by the manufacturer.

Our investigation shows the public is being charged altogether too much for ice cream by the retailers."

Yesterday's Hi Cost bulletin declares that, although there is a shortage of natural ice, there will be no ice famine this summer. It does not condemn the ice companies for their recent price increase.

"Natural ice costs more this year to deliver in Chicago on account of the excessive freight rates," the bulletin says. "The present price to the household consumer is 60 cents per hundred. St. Louis pays 45 cents, Pittsburgh 42½, and New York 75. There is no reason why the present Chicago price should be raised later on in the hot weather, as ice manufacturers are now manufacturing to capacity and it is a sure thing raising the price would not permit them to produce any more, but would merely be a method of speculation."

The cost of producing ice is 75 per cent labor and according to figures by the ice manufacturers.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(Special.)—Brig. Gen. Sawyer and Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes of Chicago conferred yesterday with Chairman Langley of the house committee on public health and grounds regarding the hospitalization legislative program for this session.

Preliminary plans were discussed and will be taken up by Chairman Langley again today with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. The general purpose of the committee and the president's special advisers is to get quick results in establishing sufficient hospital facilities to meet the present needs of the ex-service men.

Instead of elaborate building plans, it is the present purpose to utilize, enlarge, and renovate existing hospitals and army posts. Chairman Langley already has a bill to appropriate $6,800,000 for such improvements.

10 REPUBLICAN JUDGES PREFER NO-PARTY TICKET

Only Two of Sitting Bench May Stick to City Hall.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Ten of the present Republican judges of the Circuit court have already indicated that they will elect to run on the "sitting judges" ticket, backed by the Brundage-Denon Republicans and the Democratic county organization.

There are fifteen Republicans on the Circuit bench, and only two of them—Harry B. Miller and Anton T. Zeman—are such immediate members of the Lundin-Thompson group that they are clinging to the city hall ticket under any circumstances. So there is a possibility that the number who will choose to go on the anti-Thompson ticket may exceed two.

But careful, confidential inquiry during the last two weeks while the Chicago Bar association conferences with the anti-city hall leaders were in progress has shown that the Thompson ticket will not contain more than five sitting Republicans at the most.

Some Are Non-Committal.

Two or three of the Republican judges are said to have declined to state where they stand on the matter of the choice between the two slates. It is reported that they consider that they have been promised places on the city hall ticket, but do not feel much confidence in the "promises." On the other hand they are not convinced that the movement to support the sitting judges' ticket will gather the momentum its sponsors say it will.

These men will be compelled to reach their decisions within the next few days, as the Democratic convention which will put the coalition ticket into the field is to be held on April 26 and before that time the Democratic leaders will insist on knowing how many places on the fusion program are open.

These Democrats to Get Places.

The Democrats will renominate Judges George Kersten, Frank Johnston Jr., Donald L. Morrill, and Francis S. Wilson, and among their additional candidates now discussed are John B. Caverly, now in the Municipal court, Ira Ryner, William Rothmann, Ald. Thomas J. Lynch, and Municipal Judge Harry Fisher. Judge Thomas G. W. Wright, the fifth Democrat now on the bench, is expected to retire on half pay.

When the Democratic county committee meets on Monday with the Democratic aldermen to discuss the new policy of breaking all alliances with the Lundin-Thompson forces, the question whether the fifty ward re-districting ordinance should be placed on the ballot for June 6 will be discussed.

MAN WHO GREW UP WITH CHICAGO TO BE HONORED

Charles T. Boal, 53 years old today, will be given a dinner at the Chicago club tonight. He is the oldest member of the club and one of the oldest residents of the city, who saw it grow out of the prairie into the metropolis in the world.

Mr. Boal came to Chicago when he was 21. There were about 40,000 people here then, but the town was small, according to Milwaukee, Wisconsin City.

Thirty of the city's oldest residents will attend the affair. Ferdinand Peck will be the toastmaster.

And We Learn About Women from Them

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

JAKE, by Eunice Tietjens—pp. 221—Boni & Liveright.

A PARTY of explorers in Alaska, completely equipped except for mosquito netting, met, in the interior, a cloud of mosquitoes, and, driven mad by the persistent attack of the little insects, perished. The mosquitoes that drove Jake crazy were pennies, not too many, but too few. With money Jake might have "adjusted" matters with the two women—his selfish mother and his second rate wife—who fought over him with the tenacity of two dogs haggling over a bone. As it was, Jake fought a losing fight.

Jake had the "appeal that all weak, courageous things will elicit to the heart breaking children of the slums." But always the mosquitoes were buzzing about him, during his fugue childhood on the farm, his youth on the river steamer, his half successful career as newspaper artist. The gnats began to swarm when he became affianced to Carla—Carla whose manner was a little too assured, clothes a little too flashy, knowledge a bit too assumed.

The morning after the wedding the high gods, "crisply, with diabolic precision," announced their "let-moist-Jake's mother phoned her son that she was not well, nothing serious, but for him to come at once. In spite of the protests of his bride, ready for his honeymoon journey, Jake went to his mother. She kept him two days.

After that the gnats stung perpetually. Jake, dividing his small salary and smaller leisure between the two women, trying to keep from hurting them, succeeded in torturing every one. Fights, bickerings, temporary compromises, always the sting of the gnats. His mother's removal to an insane asylum, the struggle of divided allegiance, Carla's desertion of him, the death of his mother and his break down, all the "tragedy of the spirit sandwiched in between the soup and meat at dinner, in the left over scraps of time and strength." Almost casually the gods worked out their plan.

But, losing his mind, Jake found his wife again, for Carla loved a fight and she now had the whole world to challenge. Jake's sunset lasted for several months. Then it was all over, except for the aftermath. "Yet, not quite over, for," says Mrs. Tietjens-Head, "there is some part of Jake that has not died and cannot. There is a quality of eternity in pain, in pain met and endured, in the beautiful human feeling of pain with humor."

The story is told "through the gaps in a picket fence," a fence that runs between the meandering river of Jake's story and the straight and peaceful lane down which Ruth, the narrator, takes her quiet way.

WINKETERS SKID
OVER WISCONSIN ROADS IN STORMSome Good, Some Bad, but Better than Illinois'.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Madison, Wis., April 15.—[Special.]—Small's party of Illinois highway engineers, who were en route to Madison for a blinding snowstorm at 8 o'clock tonight after giving 200 miles of Wisconsin's famous system of state roads the acid test. Their composite of the Badger state's highly advertised good roads was jumbled following twelve hour tour in a nasty drizzle, which takes up the major portion of the state's main trunk lines and continues in service until they can be reached by Supt. Hirst's heavy-duty program, nearly precipitated a complete mixup among the visiting engineers at several points.

After the party left, Beloit's road was skidded on a new grade and led to an abrupt halt. A heavy full of Rockford business men, who were up behind with brakes all set, poked their nose into the official tail of the party, causing little damage. The Illinois car skidded from the road on the outskirts of Beloit, and a sidewalk, and streaked through a well-kept lawn.

At other points the entire caravan of cars had to cling perilously to a center ridge, which cut down to speed to ten miles an hour. They encountered miles of chuck holes where the gravel has worn hard and has not been renewed this spring. At other points they found the gravel in such condition, beaten into two smooth wheel grooves that allowed a safe speed of forty miles an hour and would carry a mile without a danger barrier.

In the and the entire party declared themselves pleased with the practical maintenance that keeps the main trunk roads open and passable despite the heavy traffic. Senator Hamilton expressed the general feeling.

Slippery, but Not Adhesive.

"They are slippery," he declared, but it had been in Illinois we'd have been stuck ten miles from here."

Here and there all along the line the party encountered road patrolmen driving scrapers and drags while the rain and snow blinded their horses.

"You planned 'em," George Reber, Rockford accused Supt. Hirst. "Nothing of the kind," retorted the Wisconsin road chief. "They know that when it rains is the best time to get road into proper condition. Come and I'll show you these patrolmen making all over the state."

"No, thanks," replied Reber. "Take me to Madison, where it is warm and dry."

From Rockford the party took roads they came and Wisconsin officials as to it that they traveled over every set of surfacing known in the state.

crept over the rough spots and newly graded stretches and "stepped on it" with sighs of relief when they reached numerous lengths of smooth concrete.

"Too Roads as They Came."

A concrete road took the party to the state line. From Beloit, good gravel led out half way to Delavan, with graded dirt, rutted and slippery, running into the town. Even here the surface gravel subsoil showed excellent draining. In Illinois the best dirt road would become "gumbo" under such conditions.

From Delavan to Lake Geneva the party struck good gravel with several stretches of narrow and worn macadam. They turned north at once on state trunk line 12 and found newly graded gravel and one fine stretch of concrete to Elkhorn. North through Eagle to Dousman short stretches of every type of surfacing were found before the governor's car headed west over trunk 41, one of the most heavily traveled gravel roads in the state.

"It is too early to comment," Gov. Small said. "I am favorably impressed with the Wisconsin system, and am sure this inspection will influence good road building in Illinois."

Unclaimed Mail Auction

Nets Government $10,000

Chicago's unclaimed mail, sold at public auction at 769 West Adams street, netted the government approximately $10,000. Federal Judge Landis ordered an inquiry into the methods of the auctioneers yesterday when J. H. Judge Grants New Trial to

Stanard Motor President

Judge Daniel P. Trude yesterday set aside the jury verdict by which W. S. Judge Trude ruled there was insufficient evidence to convict him. The case will be retried May 6.

MARITAL TANGLE
OF N. Y. BROKER REACHES COURTSCo-op Husband Game
to "Fight 'Em All"

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—With his first wife suing for divorce and the custody of his two children, his second wife at the home of her mother in Pittsburgh, and the prosecutors of Greenwich, Conn., and Jersey City investigating his marital tangle, Herbert Thornton Andrews declared today he is prepared to "fight 'em all." He insists Mrs. Esther Marie Tattall Andrews, wife No. 2, is his lawfully wedded wife, because, he says, his first marriage was illegal.

Mrs. Maud Haynes Andrews, wife No. 1, instituted her action for divorce today in the Chancery court at Trenton. She named wife No. 2—Esther M. Tattall—as co-respondent.

The latter also has retained counsel and will seek an annulment, it is said. The broker admits she fled to Pittsburgh, leaving him "flat."

Third Woman Enters Case.

With these developments a third woman entered the case on the side of Andrews. She is described as an intimate friend who stands ready to back him financially and with her testimony. "I'm going to fight them all," said Andrews. "I'm willing to waive extradition and to go to Greenwich at any time and prove my innocence. I shall be able to prove that my first marriage was illegal and that my second was legal."

Her leave taking, it was learned, occurred while the couple were at dinner in New York on Thursday night after they had quit the Andrews apartment lived with his two wives for at least three months.

Wife No. 1 Must Move.

Wife No. 1, on her return from a shopping trip, found real estate agents awaiting her with a "notice to vacate." Unless Mrs. Andrews complies within three days the agents plan to enter dispossession proceedings.

"I protested many times about the manner of our living," said Mrs. Andrews, "but Mr. Andrews told me that if Esther went away he would go, too. I was really very helpless. Esther knew all the time that he was married. He thought money would save him."

Mrs. Andrews No. 1 was served with a subpoena to appear before the Hudson county grand jury. She promised to appear next Tuesday, but said she would not testify against her husband.

DIVORCES ROMEO WHOM 12 OTHERS CALLED HUSBAND

Mrs. Elizabeth Miller left Judge Baldwin's court with a sigh of relief yesterday. She had been freed from her husband, William Miller, whom she charged with stealing her diamonds and having twelve other wives.

"I'm through," she announced. "I have been married four times and have learned my lesson. My last husband—thank heavens, he's my husband no longer—opened my eyes."

Mrs. Miller's fourth marriage took place on Dec. 11, 1920. Her husband told her he was a wealthy business man and was to take her to Boston on their honeymoon, she said. They were to stay in her apartment at 4422 South Wells street until he could attend to a few business details.

He Talked of His $40,000.

"He went to Boston alone," Mrs. Miller testified. "He told me he wanted to draw out $40,000 he had on deposit there. I loaned him $500 to make the trip. For three weeks I didn't hear from him. Finally he wrote saying he had lost all the money on the stock market and was going to commit suicide so I would be free from him."

"When I read that I was sorry that I had ever doubted him, your honor. He had a few faults—he even took some of my diamonds and jewelry—but I was willing to forgive him."

But when she opened his trunk she changed her opinion. Every compartment was filled with photographs of women and letters, she said.

Blondes, Brunettes, Etc.

"There were pictures of blondes, brunettes and other women, some signed 'from your wife.' I read some of the letters. Twelve different women called my husband their husband."

The judge granted a decree.

SAYS BUSINESS IS ILL WITH B. L. T.'S "SETTING HABIT"

The cause of much of the so-called business depression is "the deadly setting habit"—a phrase made famous by B. L. T. Capt. Olin Mason Caward, former minister, army officer, and business builder, so told members of the Executives' club at their meeting last night. The club endorsed Capt. Caward's opinion that "the worst of the situation is over and a turn CAPT. O. M. CAWARD for the better is in sight."

MIDDLE OF ROAD' RAIL RULING PUTS PEP' IN BUSINESS

Everybody's Happy Over Finding Except Gompers.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.
As a stimulating influence on the middle of business, the "middle of the road" decision of the United States labor board seemed yesterday
the third cup of coffee on a drizzly morning. Leaders on both sides—executives and unions—who actively participated in the conference over the national working agreements, gave another three cheers for the compromise verdict.

Each side declared it was a famous victory, and satisfaction being ramped, as it were, the understanding is that early next week the process will start of calling the local conferences ordered by the board to seek agreements on working rules.

Bankers Join the Chorus.
Bankers said the finding will open the way to placing the railroad commission on a sound basis. Shippers at meetings in various cities expressed the belief that the decision is a triumph for the public and that if the roads and their employees under the plan come to suitable agreements it will be a factor in the ultimate reduction of freight and passenger rates—this, however, is making some distance ahead.

Manufacturers and business men in general said the effect was undoubtedly exhilarating, as it hung up an after signal lamp that by readjustment the track is being cleared for business when it resumes.

In Washington, Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission and the American Farm Bureau Federation, that the plan for settling the rules of controversy would result in material saving in railway operating expense with justice to both sides.

"At present 90 per cent of the carriers' revenue goes to operating expenses amounting to 65 to 75 per cent before the war."

Rail Chief Exalts But—
In New York, Thomas De Witt Cuyer, chairman of the railway executives, said the decision "upheld fundamental principles of efficient and economical railway operation," adding that "the public must bear in mind that it is material saving in railway operating

The next instant Abraham Schultz, full of moonshine, pressed an automatic against Detective Sergeant Frank O'Malley's body and tried to pull the trigger. The safety lock failed to release and Schultz was knocked down
by two policemen who just stepped up.
The trouble started when O'Malley stopped to question the man and two women.

Labriola in which the politician told him he feared the men indicted would kill him because he had supported Ald.

Angle that Pleases Labor.
The sixteen basic principles promulgated by the board are what labor men the real feature in its cap.
Among labor chieftains opinion was divergent over the findings. In the east Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said
the labor board "evidently had been influenced by big business" in ordering the agreements abrogated. He said the decision makes the whole railway act "an utter failure."

Labor leaders who have been on the ground, however, take the opposite view. B. M. Jewell, head of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor, says "the decision upholds the principle of working agreements." The executive council of the shop trades of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor last night declared "the decision marks a new era in industrial freedom."

"Railway employees can accept the decision because it involves no impairment of their economic or social status," says the executive council of the shop crafts. "Indeed, to have this decision promulgated by a governmental agency means more to organized labor than any code that has ever been established in any industry. It is a vin-dication of the fundamental principles which we have contended. Its acceptance in good faith by railroad management will mean the public interests will be fully conserved."

Brands It Marker of New Era.
"It marks a new era in industrial freedom. We have never been interested primarily in technical rules or terminology, although the roads have used to make us appear in this light before the public. The decision to a great extent has established the bill of rights for which we have been contending. It will not only have a beneficial effect on the transportation industry, but it will mark the real beginning of industrial law, so to speak, and a code of principles in all our basic industries. It is the most courageous forward looking decision we have yet seen in this country from a government tribunal in the development of a correct basis for industrial relationships and conditions."

In reviewing the decision E. T. Whitney, representative of the managers before the labor board, said: "The entire basis of the decision is that the railroads should be economically operated;
that employees should render efficient service for all the time for which they are paid, and that the artificial protection of wages, which under the present rules has resulted in large waste, shall cease."

When asked why she tried to commit suicide her only answer was that she was despondent.

She denied that Gordon Thorne, a wealthy stock broker, was in the room at the time, as reported. She said he had come up later to take her to the theater with his wife. Thorne corroborated her story.

Miss Lygo formerly was in the "Follies," but recently left the show.
She appeared in the "Night Boat" un-

FLU EPIDEMIC HITS CHICAGO ON DATE SCHEDULED

13 Cases Reported in Day; Push Cleanup Week.

Promptly on April 15, as predicted
by health authorities, flu leaped sky-ward yesterday. Thirteen cases were reported, as compared to eight in the five previous days.

If the disease runs true to history, it will hit Chicago in light form during health promotion week, which begins
next Sunday, and for which Health Commissioner Robertson has made elaborate plans, including a city-wide cleanup of streets and alleys, which is being engineered by Deputy Commissioner of Public Works Burkhardt.

Influenza, accompanied by an increase in its brother killer, pneumonia, travels in thirty year cycles. It assumes epidemic form four times each year, about sixty weeks elapsing between each attack. The sixty-six weeks since last winter's outbreak ended yesterday. This is the fourth visit of the flu epidemic since 1917.

"Dress for this rainy, chilly spring weather," advised Herman G. Spalding, head of the contagious disease bureau.
"Beware of overheated rooms. Breathe plenty of moist air. Dress warm but not too warm."

Urges All to Clean Up.

Three hundred thousand doggers
have been printed for distribution throughout the city, requesting cooperation in the general spring cleanup. Among other slogans carried by the doggers are:

Clean up your yard and basement.
Rubbish harbors rats. Remove it.
Keep garbage cans covered and mature boxes fly-tight.
Put up screens. Make a garden.
Be a good citizen and keep the city
clean.

Suggestions for "health sermons"
were sent yesterday to ministers, rabbis, and priests of 1,070 Chicago churches and synagogues, who are asked to tell their flocks next Sunday of the dangers of spreading disease through coughing, spitting, kissing, and "hand to mouth" infection.

"Prayer Aids Clean Living."
"The person who coughs in your face, expectorates in your lungs." "Germs may be thrown from six to ten feet by a single cough."

"Prayer leads to clean living and right living is conducive to health.
Therefore pray."

Extra wagons will be sent into every ward by Assistant Superintendent Streets Galligan beginning Monday to remove the refuse collected by school children and citizens.

It was announced that six new street
flushers, working sixteen hours a day, will flush the 168 miles of business streets in the district bounded by the lake, 63d street, Kedzie avenue, and Lawrence avenue three times a week.

Chronic pneumonia, following a localized epidemic of measles at the Carmelite orphanage at East Chicago, Ind., has caused the deaths of five children in the last two weeks. Twelve children are ill with measles. One is at the point of death.

His Dream Came True.

Tuesday the auto was done, the
dream came true. Proudly the inventor got into his car. He tested it.
Down Sheridan road he went at thirty-
in fashionable cars laughed at him, but
he stepped on the gas and laughed
back at them. It was the big thrill.

Detective Sergeants Victor Eck and Louis Klatzco of Chicago avenue station saw the car parked near a corner,
a laughing crowd about it.

"A genius built that car," said Klatzco, "built it out of motorcycle parts."

"That reminds me," said Eck.
"There have been lots of motorcycle accessories stolen lately. Suppose we hold the kid and find out about it."

Tries to Shield Friends.

Kreutz tried to shield his friends for several days. "I stole the parts," he said. "I couldn't help it. I had to build that car." Finally he admitted
the truth. So Sam Dahlquist, 1157
Clybourn avenue; Charles Dugo, 232
Beethoven street; and Herbert Flynn, 1318 North La Salle street, came into the custody of the police.

"You'll have to go to trial in the boys' court, Joe," Detective Klatzco said, "but we'll tell the judge everything in your favor and we'll try to see that you get a chance."

AND THEN HE JOINED A PRIVATE CLUB

CRIPPLE BUILDS HIS DREAM CAR, A REAL AUTO, BUT—

Friends Stole Parts, He Must Face Court.

Ever since he could remember Joe Kreutz had wanted to build an automobile—a little thing, but one that would run fast, not a toy, but a real machine.

He wanted to build that car and later other cars, powerful things that would surpass all other makes.

But he never had a chance. Ten years ago, chasing a fly ball, he leaped over a fence. He fell, injuring his ankle. Then a surgeon took off his left leg—tuberculosis of the bone.

The Auto in the Making.
One day some months ago a boy friend sold Joe an old motorcycle for $10. Joe was entranced. In his little shed in the rear of his home at 22 West Elm street he began experimenting with the bike, taking it apart, putting it together, making improvements.

Boys came to him with what he needed. The dream auto began to take form. He got some axle for runners and put some axles in them. He took the motor out of the motorcycle and the gas tank. He got miniature wheels, and tires from the wheels of airplanes.

The boys brought him brakes and seats and nuts and bolts and all the other accessories he needed; and the boy worked on, early and late.

His Dream Came True.
Tuesday the auto was done, the
dream came true. Proudly the inventor got into his car. He tested it.

Down Sheridan road he went at thirty-
five miles an hour. Men and women
in fashionable cars laughed at him, but
he stepped on the gas and laughed

RICHERT BLASTS HOPES OF BOOST IN CITY HALL PAY

Tells Iroquois Club
About Finances.

The knell of $6,062,754 worth of pay increases, requested by city employes for 1921, was sounded by Ald. John A.
Richert, chairman of the city council finance committee, in a speech before the Iroquois club yesterday on "Raising Revenues for Chicago."

"The city council's request that the legislature provide for 1921 municipal expenditures the sum appropriated last year—$37,968,531—Ald. Richert said, precludes the possibility of pay boosts this year."

"Many aldermen favor pay increases, especially for policemen and firemen," he said. "Every newspaper in the city is on record for increases for policemen and firemen, but it is too late now."

Explains City's position.
At the close of his talk he explained
the city's position to a TRIBUNE reporter this way:

"It is not to be expected that the legislature will give the city more than it asks for—approximately $37,000,000.
With only that, the council will be obliged to approve the pay rates in the 1920 budget to avoid another municipal deficit."

The situation makes it probable that the recommendations of the 1920 arbitration commission for pay increases totaling nearly $15,000,000 will go into the discard. However, certain aldermen may advocate increases on the council floor, though over-appropriation and a deficit be the result, as was the case last year.

Booze in "Bone Dry" City.

In commenting on the city's loss of $8,000,000 in revenue from saloon licenses, Ald. Richert told the club:

"Though Chicago is as dry as a bone, gentlemen, the number of inmates at thebridewell has increased from 600 to 1,600 in the last year, and two-thirds of them are drunks."

The chairman made a strong plea for a "more equitable" valuation on real estate for tax levying purposes.

"In 1917 the city's property valuation was $3,100,000,000," he said.
"In 1920, after the big war prosperity period, the figure was $3,300,000,000,
such a small increase is ridiculous.
The honest taxpayer is carrying the load for the evader."

Harry Collins, 24, 3514 Sheffield avenue,

Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.
Do you believe married women in comfortable circumstances should work?

Where Asked.
Wabash avenue and Randolph street.

The Answer.
Mrs. D. S. Satter, 4737 Malden avenue, financial secretary—I think if a woman has brains she ought to continue a business career. It should be a question of brains and not marriage. I am the mother of three children and have been working for the last five years because I felt I was capable.

Mrs. Dorothy Rice, 933 Sunnyside avenue, housewife—No, a married woman should not work. Her duties are to her husband, her home, and her children. I know a great many married women are working when they ought to be at home.

George Howard, 1644 Lunt avenue, photographer—If they want to work, let 'em.
I see no reason why they should be barred because they happen to have husbands. Work helps to while away some of the dull hours
a housewife often has.

Mrs. Ray Weinberger, 1346 Granville avenue, housewife—A very woman whose family wants to attend to and who has some sort of special training should want to work, let 'em.
I see no reason why they should be barred because they happen to have husbands. Work helps to while away
some of the dull hours

Mrs. Lillian Dudenbostel, 6441 Kenwood avenue, club secretary—No, a married woman should not work unless she is especially talented. If she must have something to do, let her do charity work. There is plenty of that to be done. Let them stay home and take care of their families.

BUILDING INQUIRY WITNESS HALTED; 'TELL THE TRUTH'

Dailey Says Perjurers
Will Be Punished.

"Wait! Say no more! Go home and consult your conscience, then come back here and tell the truth!"

State Senator John Dailey, chairman of the joint legislative committee investigating building graft in Chicago, yesterday afternoon with these words suddenly halted the testimony of a witness. The witness had answered just one question concerning a case in which he had paid $16,000 over to union labor grafters.

"I am stopping you," the senator told the witness, "to give you one more chance to tell the truth about this. I see that you are trying to protect somebody. Think it over and we'll try you again."

Acts to Halt Perjury.
It was an executive hearing. After the adjournment, Senator Dailey explained his action.

"I stopped this witness," he said,
"to prevent him from perjuring himself. One witness did that today, and the evidence in that case will be turned over to State's Attorney Crowe.
We want no perjury here. The witnesses we subpoena before this body must tell the truth or be prosecuted for a felony. That goes no matter who the witness is or how big a man he is."

"I stopped the witness when I saw
there was an attempt to get away from the truth, an attempt to cover up. If the record here shows perjury, it becomes my duty to give the state's attorney the evidence. This witness paid graft money to labor leaders on two occasions, once the sum of $10,000 and again the amount of $13,000 in connection with the same job. We have positive evidence of that from at least two witnesses. This commission must deal harshly with witnesses who attempt to protect some one."

Hits Ring of Grifters.
Asked for a general résumé of the testimony so far obtained by the commission, the senator said:

"It hits a ring of union labor grafters who have pocketed a huge amount of money and stifled the building industry in Chicago."

Senator Dailey showed considerable resentment regarding the stand which he says is being taken by Chicago architects in the investigation.

"When this investigation was started,"
he said, "the architects came to us in a body offering to do everything in their power to help us. So far we have called these individuals architects who have given us nothing. The architects instead of helping us are rather doing the reverse."

Tells of Depot "Shakedown."
Details of "shakedowns" in connection with the new Union station project, which is to cost $15,000,000, were said to have been given the committee
during the morning session by W. G.
Bierd, president of the Chicago and Alton railroad. The exact nature of Mr. Bierd's testimony was not revealed.

CELL ENDS LOVE FLIGHT OF GIRL AND MARRIED MAN

The platonic love affair of Louis Langello, a married man with three children, and Miss Josephine
Brasile, both of
New Haven, Conn., ended last night when they were arrested
here and locked up at the request of New Haven

Last Friday
Louis, who is a contractor, arrived in Chicago
after a visit to his wife and children. He was

"I loved him, so

she said. "He Louis Langello,

I will have to give him up because he has a wife and three children."
Langello sought to lay the blame on the girl.

'Deceased' Wife Alive, No. 2 Finds; He's Arrested

Last September Frank Smith of Evanston, in mourning in memory of his "deceased" wife, met, wooed, and won Miss Christina Jernon. He told her of his little orphaned son in Kentucky. But Frank made the mistake of keeping letters from the deceased wife, and yesterday Mrs. Smith No. 2 had him arrested on a charge of bigamy. Mrs. Smith No. 1, it appears, is also in Kentucky with the "orphaned"
son.

STORE RENTAL ADVANCES FROM $600 TO $6,000

BY AL CHASE.

We hear a lot about Wilson avenue and down town leases reaching what once would have been considered unbelievable heights, but listen to this little tale of the Halted-Sixty-third district. Three months ago Henry Friend, State street merchant, bought the business property at 6426-48 South Halsted street, containing twelve one story stores.

Two of the shop leases expire on May 1. The store at 6426 has been paying Mr. Friend an annual rental of $600. Samuel Fry and David and Morris Grodd have signed a lease calling for a payment of $5,400 annually for the first two years and $6,000 per annum for the following three years. Some jump—$600 to $6,000! The lessees now operate a women's clothing shop in the Ashland-47th district.

The store at 6428 has been bringing in a rental of $750 annually to Mr. Friend. Louis Drexler has rented it for a millinery shop at $4,800 per annum for a five year term. Another considerable boost, we'd be willing to tell the world—$750 to $4,800! Joseph O. Kaplan was broker. Mr. Kaplan, at that time with Willis & Frankenstein, also negotiated the sale to Mr. Friend.

Pays $200,000 for Flats.

Jason S. Williams of Indianapolis, Ind., has bought from Charles E. Bartley the twelve flat building at the southwest corner of 56th street and Drexel boulevard at a reported $200,000, subject to $70,000, giving $130,000 in cash and some farm properties. The lot is 10x25, with eight garages on the rear. The George W. Stewart company was broker.

Mrs. Meta Dewes Burge, daughter of F. J. Dewes, president of the Standard Brewing company, has purchased the 30x160 on Lake View avenue, south of the Lehman residence, for $17,500, through Paul Steinbrecher & Co., and plans erecting an elaborate residence in the near future.

Buys Site for Warehouse.

John F. Lalla & Co., wholesale grocers, have bought the 50x100 at the southeast corner of Randolph and May streets from George H. Murphy for an indicated $54,000, as the site for a warehouse. No construction is contemplated this year. The present old improvements were not considered in the purchase.

J. M. Galvan of Greenville & Co. reports the sale of the six flat building at 8221-23 Kenmore avenue by Jean C. Price to Robert H. Fisher for $35,000. Also the nine-apartment building at the northeast corner of Sheridan road and Rokeby street for $65,000. Mrs. Jean C. Price bought it from Minnie Altenhofen Steinbach & Lenihan also were brokers.

Building Permits

Twenty building permits were issued yesterday, including: Fifty-ninth-st. W. 1941; two story brick; Herman, owner; $14,000. Leland, arch. West Endwood Construction & Supply Co., mason and carp. Chicago-st. W. 1804-06-08; two story brick additions to bank building; National Bank for Savings, owner; W. W. Abt, arch. Strandberg Brothers Co., mason and carp. Broadway-4254; Buena Memorial Congregational church, owner; two story brick; Ivar Viehe-Nass, arch. J. J. Kurenski, mason. $7,000. Kilbourn-st. S. 1804-06-08-10; one story brick and shed; Metal Conveyor Co., owner; Phillips, Lang & Co., arch. $30,000. Morgan-st. S. 8641; Mrs. S. Johnson, owner; two story brick home and garage; A. G. Lund, arch.; A. Johnson, mason; S. Johnson, carp. $11,000.

$40,000,000 IN BUILDING PERILED BY WAGE DISPUTE

Thomas S. Kearney, president of the Building Trades council, yesterday received information from Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, architects, that contracts calling for $40,000,000 worth of work in new buildings, which the firm now has on the boards, will be shelved if the wage controversy of the building trades workmen is not settled by May 1.

Contracts for some of the largest construction jobs in the city are held by Mr. Graham's firm, among them being the Illinois Merchants' Trust company building, $12,000,000; the State Bank of Chicago, $5,000,000; the Union station, $15,000,000; and the west side postal station, $5,000,000.

"Work on these jobs will not be started until the wages of the building workmen are decreased to $1 an hour for skilled labor and 70 cents an hour for laborers," Mr. Graham said.

TOO MANY 'DEARS' IN LETTER GIVE HUSBAND DECREE

Opening a letter which she received from a soldier at Camp Custer three years ago, Mrs. Lucille Rathje, 1228 West Madison street, found herself characterized "dear" sixteen times.

"O dear!" she yawned, and tossed the letter aside.

John Rathje, her husband, picked it up, and yesterday, after reading it to Judge Sabath, was granted a decree of divorce. Excerpts follow:

"Dearest: This place is especially familiar to me. I remember vividly, dear, that night on the porch. Dear, I don't believe I will ever forget leaving you in front of the Red Cross building when I kissed you goodbye. Will you?"

"I suppose Chicago is like a tomb, with everything closed up, but never mind, dear. We will do the city in grand old style on Thanksgiving day."

GRAIN BUL PRESSURE CLOSE IS

BY CHARLES D.

A decided change in atmosphere pervaded the market. Lessened selling pressure, together with a belief in a recovery, led to a construction of a larger number of orders, causing a good recovery.

Lowest prices were made for July: corn showed a gain of 1/4¢; wheat was up 1/4¢; oats were up 1/4¢; rye was up 1/4¢; barley was up 1/4¢; and clover was up 1/4¢.

Provisions had an improving tendency. Pork unchanged at 14¢; lard 14¢; and tallow 14¢.

Many Traders Take Numerous local traders short covered and took the advance good selling houses that had led the previous day and this morning more than 2¢ for May and 1¢ for July to May. The big disturbing in the market was the price of corn. Country attracted attention more short covering spots, while on the balance in fair volume and price.

Elevator interests bought July and September, and a spread of 1¢ and 1/2¢ was made. The advance in July advanced nearly 1¢ under the 1¢ to 1 1/4¢, and arrived at 1 1/4¢. A better tone developed with offerings lighter and buyers, while local demand was strong. The fat backs, and more of the Wilshire here for a shipped. Prices for Three guesses as to what most of these girls were thinking about when the camera clicked? Could it have been the admiration of the photographer to "Smile, just a little bit more"? Or was it the thought of the best beau, who wanted a new picture for his desk? Or the father who was so indulgent about sending extra allowance because it was the first year away from home and living so high?

Or was it possibly the pleasure of planning what use could be made of a nice fat cash prize? That is, if the judges were kind. And the judges are being kind. They aren't overlooking any of the pictures. Those that weren't printed for lack of space and those that just slipped under the wire last Saturday night have as good a chance as the ones sent in when the first whistle blew. Each and every one is getting the most careful double O. Meaning the once over, which, coming from a judge who is also a famous artist, is a thing to be respected. For when two painters and a sculptor devote their valuable time, as Pauline Palmer, J. Wellington Reynolds, and Albin Polasek are doing, to deciding which girls out of a vast group are the most beautiful, you may be sure the ones they choose will please the eye of us lesser mortals.

So don't worry about your picture not having been published, or the fact that you waited until late to send it in. It is being given due consideration, and if you were born fair to look upon as well as lucky you may gather in one of the sixty-one prizes that are out looking for homes. Watch for the first announcements in THE TRIBUNE for April 24.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

By Antonella

PILLSBURY: YES, CONSTIPATION does affect the looks, and a general lethargy will spoil a face, no matter how prettily featured. A change of diet from starchy foods, fatty meats, rich desserts, to fruit and green vegetables and lean meats, vegetable salads with oil dressings, etc., will aid materially. Yeast helps some people, too. Others. Drink water. Few people realize the cleansing qualities of water on the inside. Try six glasses a day, and in the morning, one between meals and one before retiring, and see if it does not make you look and feel better. It will.

JUNE: GREASINESS OF THE skin is due chiefly to the secretion of fat by the innumerable fat glands which are in it. A certain amount of fat in the skin is necessary to its health. Deprived of it, the skin becomes brittle and dry, and wrinkles develop. In later life wrinkles are in part due to loss of this subcutaneous fat.

HENNA: DON'T HENNA IT! No matter what you do! If you must dye it—get the coloring as nearly your natural shade of hair as possible. Otherwise you will develop no more, at least of all yourself, into thinking it an improvement.

INQUIRER: THE GREEN SOAP is not green in color. Rather, it is a pale shade. It is not a proprietary article, can be obtained at almost any drug store. I have used it for shampooing and liked it. But you must reduce it to liquid form. I found, to make a successful shampoo, many people like the bar soaps, and find them equally successful for shampooing. It is in rinsing often enough you get the soap out of the hair. For an average head of hair three rinsings is not too much. The water will do no harm, anyway.

MRS. X: AS DR. BOWERS says, relative to warm baths and nerves, "Existence would be calmer and more tranquil. Lightening flashes of passion, that fear and desire might be mitigated or prevented, is even quite likely this peace-bringing discharge could, by the warm bath, be conducted safely down the bath waste pipe—where it would wash away, with a little chugging, graph. For insomnia sufferers it is recommended. No, they won't cause loss of strength. I've been taking them for years, and I seem to have a lot of strength left to wrestle with problems of reducing, hair growing, complexion clearing, etc.

Colorado Salt Lake City Yellowstone

-see them together

Three fine vacation trips in one! Roam over the great Rockies among wild flowers, visit Rocky Mountain National (Estes) Park—unexpectedly run into a deer or an elk—nature at its wildest but also at its safest. Golf, tennis and horseback riding too. Then visit Salt Lake City—hear the organ recitals in the wonderful Mormon Tabernacle and bathe in the buoyant waters of Great Salt Lake—you can't sink. See in Yellowstone the legerdemain of nature presented as at no other place in the world. Geysers, canyons, boiling springs, waterfalls, cascades, roaring hot and cold streams. See great herds of wild deer, buffalo, bear and elk. Live in wildwood camps or luxurious, modern hotels, as you choose.

Low Summer Tourist Fares, Commencing June 1st. April is "Planning Month" for summer vacations. Don't overlook Colorado, Salt Lake and Yellowstone. You can enjoy them all on the same trip. On request we will plan a trip for your consideration.
